

Serious Crimes Rise 1 Per Cent, 11-Year Low Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Serious crime in the nation during the first three months of this year rose only 1 per cent, the lowest increase in 11 years, the Justice Department announced today.

The rate of increase was 6 per cent a year ago, and 13 per cent in 1970.

Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, in releasing the figures from the FBI's Uniform Crime Report for the months January through March, also said that 80 of the nation's largest cities reported reductions in serious crime in the first three months of 1972.

In 1971, 59 cities showed a decrease, while only 22 had a decline in 1970, he said.

The most significant change in the three months, said Kleindienst, occurred in the six cities with more than a million population.

In the first quarter of this year, the number of serious crimes in those cities rose 6 per cent, one half of the 1971 increase of 12 per cent.

The nationwide crime statistics are compiled by voluntary reports from 6,068 local, county and state law enforcement agencies.

The report divides serious crime into two categories—violent, which includes murder, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault, and property, which includes burglary, larceny $50 and over and auto theft.

Violent crime, which makes up about 13 per cent of the total index offenses in the crime report, increased 2 per cent in the first quarter of 1972, compared to a 13 per cent increase during the same period in 1971.

In the categories that make up violent crime, murder was up 2 per cent compared to 1971's rise of 11 per cent; forcible rape up 17 per cent versus 2 per cent last year, robbery

Protestant Parade Hikes Irish Tension

BELFAST Northern Ireland (AP) — Gunmen killed three persons early today as Northern Ireland's Protestants got ready for their first big march of the summer.

Automatic fire riddled a 19-year-old Protestant walking with his father in a park in the town of Portadown. An hour later five masked gunmen believed to be Protestant extremists broke into a home in Belfast and murdered a 16-year-old Catholic. And the body of a hooded man shot in the head was found in Belfast apparently another victim of the assassins who have terrorized the city for weeks.

Meanwhile, the British government ordered 32,000 troops, police and militiamen into the streets of 18 cities and towns to keep the warring religious factions apart today while 100,000 Protestants of the Orange Order paraded.

Belfast was lit by scores of street bonfires during the night marking the advent of the "Glorious Twelfth." It is the 282nd anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne in which the Protestant armies of William of Orange defeated the Roman Catholic forces of James II.

Amid politicians' warnings that Northern Ireland is closer to civil war than at any time in the three years of communal violence, the militant Protestants of the Ulster Defense Association said their armed units would protect the marchers from attack by the Catholics of the Irish Republican Army.

Government forces cordoned the line of march in Belfast to block attacks by Catholics enraged by the display of Protestant dominance. Catholics of the Andersonstown, Ballymurphy and Ardoyne districts sealed off their sectors with barricades of concrete and steel to keep out Protestant raiders.

Trouble was feared in Portadown a town of 13,000 population 25 miles southwest of Belfast. The route of the parade there ran through a Catholic section and the IRA said it would not allow the marchers through. The UDA said it was prepared for a showdown.

Tax Repeal Petitions Doing Well

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Backers of a petition campaign to put a proposal to repeal the state income tax to voters in November say they foresee no difficulty in getting the 318,414 signatures required to put it on the ballot.

Rep. Richard G. Reichel R-92 Massillon said Tuesday 31,000 petitions with spaces for 25 signatures each were put into circulation and 3000 are back.

He predicted more than 15,000 would be returned within the next two weeks.

Work to get the petitions returned began this week with installation of four special telephone lines at the Columbus office of the Citizens Committee to Repeal the Income Tax.

Volunteers are contacting persons with repeal petitions asking them to return them to Columbus, Reichel said.

The petitions must be filed with Secretary of State Ted Brown by Aug. 8. Brown will send them to county boards of elections to check the validity of signatures.

If there are enough valid signatures the issue will go on the ballot. If voters approve the issue the income tax would be repealed Jan. 1, 1973 and no future income tax could be enacted without voter approval.

Platform Adopted At Marathon Meet

McGovern Eyes Veep List

MIAMI BEACH Fla. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern assured of the platform he sought and a first-ballot victory tonight in the Democratic presidential balloting considered a list of potential running mates today. Aides said he still plans to ask a reluctant Sen. Edward M. Kennedy to join the ticket.

Wary delegates had barely 12 hours off after the longest convention session in the history of either party before tonight's climactic meeting at which McGovern was scheduled to be the first candidate placed into nomination and when the balloting took place the party's nominee.

California planned to yield to Connecticut when the states were called for nominations so that Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff could nominate the 49-year-old South Dakota senator to head the Democratic ticket this November.

Speculation turned immediately to possible running mates after the withdrawal of Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie on Tuesday assured McGovern's nomination.

Kennedy was clearly his top choice despite repeated statements he is unavailable.

A close personal friend of Kennedy, Sen. John V. Tunney of California, told reporters after talking with him by phone that he thinks it highly unlikely Kennedy would accept. He added he expects Kennedy to fly here from Hyannis Port, Mass., Thursday to appear at the convention with the nominee.

McGovern's aides said that others under consideration include: United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock, Sens. Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri and Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut and Florida Gov. Reubin Askew.

The Democratic National Convention meanwhile headed toward approval of a platform that mirrors McGovern's views in calling for total U.S. withdrawal from Indochina and supporting busing to improve educational opportunities.

By voice vote, the convention shouted down eight proposals ranging from endorsement of capital punishment and public-school prayers to a constitutional amendment barring busing, despite a plea by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Wallace, holding just a few hundred delegates and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington with under 100, vowed to stay in the presidential race although he had withdrawn from the race last year.

Spassky Favored To Win 1st Match With Fischer

REYKJAVIK Iceland (AP) — Defending champion Boris Spassky was favored by the experts to beat American challenger Bobby Fischer in the opening game of the world chess match when play resumes this afternoon.

The opener of the richest chess competition in history adjourned Tuesday night after 4 hours and 34 minutes of play and 40 moves by each player.

Referee Lothar Schmid of West Germany will make Spassky's 41st move. The Russian wrote it on a slip of paper and handed it to him in a sealed envelope at the adjournment.

The two competitors, their seconds and chess enthusiasts throughout the world, spent part of the overnight break analyzing possibilities for the 11 pieces remaining on the green-and-white chessboard in Reykjavik's sports hall: king and five pawns for Fischer; king bishop and three pawns for Spassky.

The match had appeared headed for a draw until Fischer tried to seize the initiative on his 29th move.

The lanky Brooklyn N.Y. challenger galloped his bishop down a long black diagonal to snatch an unprotected pawn Spassky had offered. A few moves later the bishop was trapped and lost in exchange for two pawns.

U.S. grandmaster Robert Byrne said it was a blunder and commented "Fischer is going to have trouble making a draw. I don't see how Spassky can lose."

Analyzing the game for The Associated Press international grandmaster Isaac Kashdan termed Fischer's move "a rare miscalculation by the American genius." He said it gave Spassky good prospects for a win.

Svetozar Gligoric the Yugoslav grandmaster present at the tournament said, "It is doubtful whether black can save a draw." Spassky, playing the white pieces, Fischer the black.

Nixon Meets With Dobrynin

See Substantial Policy Discussion

SAN CLEMENTE Calif. (AP) — Just a day before Vietnam peace talks resume in Paris President Nixon has scheduled an informal but serious meeting here with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin.

The ambassador and Mrs. Dobrynin described as guests of Henry A. Kissinger the president's principal foreign affairs advisor were invited by their host to visit the Western White House today.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press secretary, said the chief executive and the visiting Russian would meet at some point during the day.

In response to a question Ziegler declared "I don't want to describe it as a courtesy call." Asked if substantive matters would be discussed, he replied, "Yes."

Vietnam peace talks resume Thursday in Paris after a two-month hiatus occasioned by a United States withdrawal that preceded Nixon's order to mine North Vietnamese ports.

Dobrynin, according to Ziegler, just happened to be visiting a recently opened Soviet consulate in San Francisco and was invited to "drop by" Southern California.

Kissinger met the ambassador and Mrs. Dobrynin in Los Angeles Tuesday took them on an escorted tour of the old-Hollywood-style Universal Studios, then with their host at dinner. Ziegler said a number of Kissinger friends, not identified were present.

City Board Okays $2.6 Million Budget, And Computor Payroll

A proposed budget through 1973 of over $2.6 million was approved Tuesday evening by the Circleville Board of Education.

The estimate of expenses for the coming year is figured at $100,000 over the budget for 1972 covering salaries, services, transportation, libraries, playgrounds, school plant operation and maintenance.

Three more teaching employees indicated their intentions to terminate their employment with the city schools. Resignations were accepted from high school English teacher Will Dunkle, who is accepting a scholarship to graduate school in Denver, and Helen Ballentine, developmental reading teacher, who was able to obtain employment nearer her Chillicothe home.

Truman Eberly, a long-time instructor in the system, announced he was applying for disability retirement for health reasons and did not plan to resume his vocal music post in September.

JACQUELINE Joliffe, a library aide, and Tilley Teets, high school part time custodian, also submitted resignations which were accepted. No replacement has been made for Mrs. Joliffe, but the board employed Harold Mumaw for the custodial service.

Contracts offered by the board included one to Charlene Craig, a recent graduate of Ohio State holding a bachelor degree. She will teach speech, English and drama at the high school level. Mrs. Sharon Wilamowsky, wife of the newly hired track coach at Logan Elm, has accepted a position as junior high guidance counselor. He is completing work for her masters at Akron University.

The board voted to re-employ Wanda Matesky, school nurse; Thelma Grant, half-time secretary in the nurses' office and half-time secretary in the junior high principal's office; Charlene Hughes, high school library secretary; Duhese McCain and Martha Purcell, study hall monitors at the junior high; Gloria Simson, part-time teachers aide at Mound and High St. elementary.

Diane Smith, employed by the board to fill the vacancy in home economics at the junior high created by the recent death of Mrs. Gloria Gabriel was given permission to attend a State Vocational Home Economics meeting in August.

The board also okayed plans for the Title I, ADC and PL 874 programs covering developmental reading, remedial summer school, supportive health service, library service, and study hall monitors and secretary to implement tutorial programs at the junior high.

A part-time bus driver will be employed by the board to assist in transporting kindergarten students qualifying for transportation as recently decreed in the legislature's education bill.

Connally May Actively Push For Re-Election Of Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, back home after a 17-nation mission for President Nixon, says he may campaign actively for the chief executive's re-election this fall but expects no offer to be Nixon's running mate.

He also said he has no idea what new assignment Nixon may have in mind for him though the President mentioned recently that Connally may take on some other special duties.

Connally told newsmen that he's made no decision on his campaign role but said he doesn't consider Democratic Sen. George McGovern the most attractive presidential candidate and sides with Nixon on most major issues.

"I think it would be a mistake to assume that I'll sit this one out," said Connally who resigned in May as Treasury secretary amid speculation that Nixon might choose him to replace Spiro T. Agnew on the GOP ticket in November.

"It's conceivable that I could be fairly active" for Nixon, he said, but he turned aside questions suggesting that the President sent him on the five-week worldwide trip to groom him for vice president.

"I would anticipate that I wouldn't" be offered the post, he said. "As I read the tea leaves, that's not in my future." Besides he said, reporters should ask Nixon that question.

Connally said he is still a Democrat. But asked if he missed attending the Democratic National Convention at Miami Beach he said, "I miss it kind of like a man misses a sore thumb."

As for McGovern, he said, "In light of some of his policies he's not the most attractive candidate in the country, as far as I can see."

A CONVERSION to computer processing of payroll received unanimous vote of the board who awarded the job to the Ohio National Bank of Columbus. That company's automated customers services has agreed to perform the payroll operation at a cost estimated by the school district about $100 a month. Clerk Mary Ellen Rader noted that the new process would permit additional deductions requested by the education association and ease the burden of writing some 300 checks monthly by individual computation.

Hijack News Ban Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strict controls over news on air line hijackings might help cut down on hijack attempts, according to the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization (PATCO).

John F. Leyden, the PATCO president, called for "an immediate blackout on skyjacking attempts" in a letter to Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe Tuesday.

"The twisted minds which contrive these heinous schemes receive their instant expertise through elaborate detailed accounts of previous attempts in the newspapers and television," he said.

"Too often vivid details depicted by the media serve as an incentive to an already unbalanced mind which would even contemplate a crime of such serious magnitude," he added.

Leyden said PATCO was not seeking to directly suppress news, but that it wanted "a change in the method used in disseminating that news." He did not elaborate.

Askew Calls For United America

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew has called on Democrats to spearhead a coalition of protest for change in America.

"There is indeed a new coalition in this country, a coalition of protest," the Florida governor said Tuesday night in the keynote speech to the Democratic National Convention.

"It includes black and white, young and old, North and South, right and left, some of the rich, most of the poor, and millions of overtaxed and overcharged middle-income Americans as well."

He found the "face of America" in the newly broadened makeup of the convention delegates, and like the nation, he found differences in the party.

The coalition "has the potential to unite Americans and make a difference in this country, but only if it holds together," he said.

"Let us remember that this nation was founded on diversity, that our differences can be a source of strength as well as weakness, that a good and open fight can be a vigorous way of searching for the truth, that while no one person or group possesses the absolute truth, every person and every group has something of value to offer," Askew said.

"The time has come, he said, 'when we must stop talking about an American dream and start listening to the dreams of Americans.'"

"Americans dream of a day when they're at peace in the world, and at peace with themselves. They dream of a day when all the fathers and all the sons, in all the prisons and jungles of Asia, not only come home again, but come home to stay."

"A day when we spread democracy abroad by making it work in our own country, a day when we place more value on human happiness than the gross national product."

2 Men Arrested With Guns In Car Near McGovern

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Two men were taken into custody today by Secret Service agents and the FBI outside Sen. George McGovern's hotel.

Two pistols were taken from their car.

Both men were black and wore jeans. They were taken into custody shortly after McGovern concluded a meeting on the 17th floor in the penthouse suite of the Doral Beach Hotel with six Democratic governors.

The men apparently arrived in a small sports car with Michigan license plates. The weapons were taken from their vehicle when authorities searched it, a man who identified himself as an FBI agent said.

That company's automated customers services has agreed to perform the payroll operation at a cost estimated by the school district about $100 a month. Clerk Mary Ellen Rader noted that the new process would permit additional deductions requested by the education association and ease the burden of writing some 300 checks monthly by individual computation.

Hijack News
Ban Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strict controls over news on air line hijackings might help cut down on hijack attempts, according to the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization (PATCO).

John F. Leyden, the PATCO president, called for "an immediate blackout on skyjacking attempts" in a letter to Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe Tuesday.

"The twisted minds which contrive these heinous schemes receive their instant expertise through elaborate detailed accounts of previous attempts in the newspapers and television," he said.

"Too often vivid details depicted by the media serve as an incentive to an already unbalanced mind which would even contemplate a crime of such serious magnitude," he added.

Leyden said PATCO was not seeking to directly suppress news, but that it wanted "a change in the method used in disseminating that news." He did not elaborate.

Askew Calls For United America

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew has called on Democrats to spearhead a coalition of protest for change in America.

"There is indeed a new coalition in this country, a coalition of protest," the Florida governor said Tuesday night in the keynote speech to the Democratic National Convention.

"It includes black and white, young and old, North and South, right and left, some of the rich, most of the poor, and millions of overtaxed and over-charged middle-income Americans as well."

He found the "face of America" in the newly broadened makeup of the convention delegates, and like the nation, he found differences in the party.

The coalition "has the potential to unite Americans and make a difference in this country, but only if it holds together," he said.

"Let us remember that this nation was founded on diversity, that our differences can be a source of strength as well as weakness, that a good and open fight can be a vigorous way of searching for the truth, that while no one person or group possesses the absolute truth, every person and every group has something of value to offer," Askew said.

The time has come, he said, "when we must stop talking about an American dream and start listening to the dreams of Americans."

"Americans dream of a day when they're at peace in the world, and at peace with themselves. They dream of a day when all the fathers and all the sons, in all the prisons and jungles of Asia, not only come home again, but come home to stay."

"A day when we spread democracy abroad by making it work in our own country, a day when we place more value on human happiness than the gross national product."

2 Men Arrested With Guns In Car Near McGovern

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Two men were taken into custody today by Secret Service agents and the FBI outside Sen. George McGovern's hotel.

Two pistols were taken from their car.

Both men were black and wore jeans. They were taken into custody shortly after McGovern concluded a meeting on the 17th floor in the penthouse suite of the Doral Beach Hotel with six Democratic governors.

The men apparently arrived in a small sports car with Michigan license plates. The weapons were taken from their vehicle when authorities searched it, a man who identified himself as an FBI agent said.

Heavy Fighting Marks Quang Tri City Drive

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy fighting was reported on three sides of Quang Tri City as tank-led North Vietnamese forces for the sixth straight day blocked a government drive to recapture the provincial capital.

The Saigon military command claimed 198 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed and four tanks destroyed in five battles north east and south of Quang Tri City on Tuesday and today.

First reports said 29 South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 69 wounded. Nearly all of the government casualties were reported in the helicopter landing of several hundred South Vietnamese marines a mile north of Quang Tri City at noon Tuesday. Three U.S. Marines and two of the American crewmen were reported wounded.

The North Vietnamese launched one counterattack just before dawn today and seized hilltop positions from South Vietnamese paratroopers to the southwest. Associated Press correspondent Dennis Need reported from the front.

Need said several battalions of South Vietnamese paratroopers on the edges of Quang

Tri City were being pounded by long-range North Vietnamese artillery fire.

Allied planes were striking at the city, field reports said, but they were hampered by windstorms whipping up sand and reducing the pilots' visibility.

Radio Hanoi announced today Revolutionary Committee was established last month to rule Quang Tri Province which the North Vietnamese captured in May and are now defending against the South Vietnamese counterattack.

The broadcast quoted a communiqué by the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front dated July 5 but gave no reason why the announcement had been held up for a week.

The U.S. 7th Fleet in a delayed report announced that the destroyers Robison and Hull sank 13 barges off the coast of North Vietnam 30 miles northeast of Dong Hoi before dawn Monday. The barges were unloading supplies from a freighter presumed to be Chinese but the freighter was not attacked sources said.

In the air war U.S. fighter-bombers flew more than 230 strikes against North Vietnam on Tuesday the U.S. Command said and knocked out a 300-foot highway bridge 40 miles north-east of Hanoi with laser-guided bombs.

North Vietnam claimed that six U.S. planes were shot down during Tuesday's raids. The U.S. Command announced one loss, a Navy F4 Phantom downed about 30 miles north-east of Hanoi. The two crewmen were listed as missing.

The U.S. Command also disclosed the loss of a Marine A6 fighter-bomber that was shot down last Friday 33 miles southwest of Quang Tri City. It said the two crewmen were missing.

Man Loses Temper,
Strips Mall Tree

NEW RICHMOND, Ohio (AP) — Lee Polster, 19, told New Richmond Police Chief Harold Kennedy that he just lost his temper.

Kennedy Tuesday charged Polster with malicious destruction of property for stripping a fir tree on the city mall which had recently been planted for beautification.

Kennedy, hired by city council Monday night, was told to get cracking on the "tree stripper" caper.

See Only Modest Chance For Break In Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States heads back into the Vietnam peace talks Thursday amid only modest predictions here about prospects for a settlement any time soon.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, due in late today from a round-the-world trip, said before leaving Rome that he is generally hopeful the reopening Paris parley might bring some movement by a Hanoi negotiator toward ending the war.

Assistant Secretary Marshall Green, the State Department's top Far East expert returned from East Asia tour affirming that the United States will work hard for a settlement.

"But I think we are dealing, quite realistically," Green said, "with pretty hard-bitten, intransigent, struggle-minded leaders in Hanoi."

President Nixon's security affairs adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, told newsmen over the weekend that "at least we have some reason to believe that maybe there will be a new approach" by North Vietnam.

"But we cannot guarantee it," he said, "because it will not be certain until we have heard it from them."

Washington analysts have spotted no particular shift in North Vietnam's position in the public remarks of Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy upon his arrival in Paris Monday.

They say Hanoi's terms would mean, in effect, a Communist takeover of South Vietnam.

However, Le Duc Tho, the Hanoi Politburo member who has met secretly with Kissinger in the past, is reported on his way to Paris and what he says privately may or may not diverge from their public stance.

Nixon announced June 29th that he was resuming the long-stalemated Paris meetings, suspended May 4, "on the assumption that the North Vietnamese are prepared to negotiate in a constructive and serious way."

Administration spokesmen have yet to disclose what evidence they may have that Hanoi intends to alter her position. They added the United States will not drop its refusal of North Vietnam's central demand for a coalition government in Saigon.

The administration's main stated reasons for some optimism is because of North Vietnam's circumstances now. Rogers noted that Hanoi's spring offensive has failed, U.S. bombing of the North is highly successful, Nixon's Moscow and Peking trips have strengthened the world climate for peace, and continuing the war serves nobody's interests.

Wallace Has His Moment At Democratic Convention

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Crippled Alabama Gov. George Wallace came smiling and claimed his moment of drama.

Accorded a long-awaited Democratic National Convention appearance to argue his platform views, Wallace was greeted by a lusty ovation and heard in an aura of good behavior.

"I am here," said the man who bolted the Democrats in 1968, "because I want to help."

"I want it to become again the party of the average citizen as it used to be and not the party of the pseudo-intellectual snobbery that it has come to be."

But while his familiar call for slashes in foreign aid and an end to "the senseless, asinine busing of little school children" evoked cheers enough to flood the convention center, it was clear that the hearts and minds of most would not be swayed from Sen. George McGovern, the man to be nominated tonight.

The loudest cheers arose expectedly from the Alabama, Michigan, Florida and Texas delegations, their "Wallace for President" banners held high and their hopes soon to be shattered in the subsequent balloting over the various planks tailored for McGovern.

But there were no walkouts, as in 1968, and few outbursts of bitterness. One Wallace delegate from Florida met his tearful wife in the lobby and said, "Honey, let's go have a beer and then get back to work. It's going to be a long night."

It was Wallace's first appearance before a large crowd since he was shot in a Laurel, Md., shopping center on May 15. He was 15 pounds slimmer and his voice seemed weaker, but he looked fit and alert as he leaned into the podium. Television viewers could not tell that he was in a wheelchair, but they saw pictures of him being lifted onto the podium boxes.

The convention already had seen unprecedented security, but as Wallace's arrival neared, scores of additional police and Secret Service agents took up stations in the hall. Visitors and newsmen were cautioned to remain seated, and cameras and briefcases were searched repeatedly.

While the governor's address lacked the old fire and was notably void of any personal attacks or threats to quit the party again, it was full of the same litany which marked his primary campaigning.

There were a few boos, most of them aimed at his remarks over school busing, but they were effectively dampened by the cheers.

State Notes Area Schools Benefit From Income Tax

A computerized study reveals that Pickaway County schools are receiving the benefit of an additional $886,349 to operate as a result of the income tax which the 109th General Assembly enacted last December.

Additional dollars which have been provided by the income tax to keep county elementary and secondary schools operating are the equivalent of a 5.17 mill property tax, the computed figures show.

For Circleville City Schools, the new legislation means an annual increase of over $416,851 over former state foundation payments, or nearly $115 more per pupil for the district to spend. Figures given reveal past legislation guaranteed Circleville an annual payment of $666,035 while House Bill 475 will mean a total of just over $1 million.

Benefits of the tax bill were noted already, since the bill was made retroactive to December, meaning the new computation was in effect the rest of the year. That seven month period brought an additional $243,000.

LOGAN Elm is the least benefited by the bill of all county schools, receiving yearly increase of only $8,719 which figures out to an additional $6 per pupil. That district received $194,134 under the old legislation, but because of its high tax valuation and a change in the base determining need, computation for 1,520 pupils reveals the new annual rate of state payment would be only $202,800.

So far, the district has experienced a $5,000 increase in state payments figuring the seven months under the new bill.

The state department revealed that Laurelville Schools, during 1971-72, received a total of $293,000 in state aid. Because of the transfer, Logan Elm has been guaranteed about 83 per cent of this amount for the next three years, regardless of enrollment and total tax base of the combined districts.

The House Bill 475 offered Laurelville a $142 per pupil increase annually or over $115,000 for the entire district.

For Teays Valley students, the increase amounts to $102 per child annually. That district went from $356,860 to 2,662 students to $628,055, an increase of $271,000 annually.

The increases noted so far is an additional $158,197 received since the bill was approved in March, 1972, retroactive to December.

WESTFALL'S 1,819 students who formerly made the computation for state aid amount to $240,000, now have increased the payment to $430,000 under the new law. This increase of $189,500 for the year means an additional state payment of $104 per pupil. Actual increase in funds noted during the 1971-72 school year is $110,591.

The department noted that the additional amounts of state money would be the equivalent of a 14.60 mill levy in Laurelville; an 8.81 mill levy increase in Circleville; a .20 mill increase for Logan Elm;

Demo Reforms Are Widened For 1976

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Delegates to the Democratic National Convention have voted to continue the reforms inaugurated this year in an attempt to make it the true "party of the people."

By voice vote Tuesday night delegates adopted several more reforms aimed at insuring that the 1976 Democratic presidential candidate is nominated by delegate states which reflect the social mix even more than 1972 delegations.

This year's reforms added more women, blacks and young persons to the delegations.

One reform adopted for 1976 calls for adequate representation for persons of low income.

Another abolished winner-take-all primaries such as in California, which this year spurred the biggest credentials battle of the convention.

Sen. George McGovern won California's 271 delegates in the primary. But his opponents successfully petitioned the Credentials Committee, the courts and the convention itself to divide the California delegation in proportion equal to the voting.

In 1976, a proportional division will be required.

Another reform would end the primary practice in some states where Republicans may cross over and vote for Democrats. The 1976 guidelines will require states to adopt rules saying that only persons who have been registered Democrats for at least 14 days before a primary may participate in that election.

Amid reports that some reform delegations do not have enough to pay their hotel bills, the delegates also approved a rule which would require the Democratic National Committee to put 8 per cent of its annual income — about $160,000 — into a fund to help poor delegates meet the costs of attending a convention.

Sheriff's Deputies Investigate 3 Freak Accidents Tuesday

Three unusual traffic accidents, which injured two persons, were investigated by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Tuesday.

One of the accidents involved a small boy running in front of an ambulance transporting a patient to a hospital, another occurred when a car rolled away from a man who was working on it, and the third occurred when a car wouldn't let another pass.

The small boy, David Kneec, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kneec, 103 School St., New Holland, apparently darted between two cars at the intersection of S. Main St. and School St. in New Holland 10:20 a.m. Tuesday and was hit by Kirk's Ambulance from the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home.

Driver of the ambulance, Gary R. Kirkpatrick, 27, New Holland, transported the youth to Fayette Memorial Hospital and then to Children's Hospital, Columbus, for observation of head injuries and a possible skull fracture.

Kirkpatrick told Deputy Sheriff Warren Straley he was driving north on S. Main St., taking Mrs. Opal Drake, 65, to the Washington C. H. Hospital.

He pulled off the roadway and attached an oxygen unit for the woman.

After starting up again, he spotted the youth, and another boy, running from the left side. He applied his brakes, skidding 50 feet, before hitting young Kneec and knocking him 18 feet.

Stephen L. Fisher, 23, Route 1, Lockbourne, was referred to a doctor for treatment of an injury to his left hand after trying to stop his runaway car.

According to Deputy J. Phillip Brown's report, Fisher was working on the running motor of his car 9:15 p.m. Tuesday on private property in the Planeview Trailer Court, when the car apparently slipped into gear and started moving towards a trailer.

Fisher jumped into the auto but couldn't control it.

The car destroyed three rods of fence owned by James O. Wise, Route 1, Lockbourne, swung around and hit a block wall, also owned by Wise.

The car sustained only minor damage.

Deputy Bill Dountz arrested both drivers of cars involved in a 2:05 p.m. crash.

According to his report, the accident occurred on Route 62, about a half a mile north of the Circleville - London - Northern Road when a car driven by Emerson Lee Babington, 42, Hillsboro, cut in front of a car driven by Michael Albertini, 18, Columbus, as Babington was passing Albertini's car.

No one was injured in the crash.

Babington was charged with changing lanes without caution.

Albertini received a citation for driving an unsafe vehicle.

According to witness statements, Albertini's car matched pace with Babington's as Babington was in the passing lane.

He was forced to return to the right side of the highway by an oncoming car, hitting Albertini's auto in the right front.

Two Charged In Juvenile Rape Case

A search for two local runaway juvenile girls ended with rape charges being filed against a 20-year-old Circleville man and a 16-year-old boy.

James McGovern, 20, 325 S. Scioto St., was taken into custody Tuesday and charged with rape with consent of a female under the age of 16. He is now in Pickaway County jail.

McGovern appeared in Circleville Municipal Court this morning and pleaded not guilty. He waived a preliminary hearing and was bound over to the grand jury on $2,500 bond.

The girls, aged 15 and 16, and the juvenile boy have been cited into juvenile court.

The girls' mothers reported them missing after they failed to return home Saturday night and they were taken into custody by Ptl. James Francis Sunday.

though McGovern's assured first-ballot strength shot past the 1,509 votes needed to win.

Some labor leaders who had supported Humphrey, including President I. W. Abel of the United Steelworkers Union, threw their support to Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington.

Besides McGovern, Wallace and Jackson supporters announced nominating speeches would be made for former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy; Reps. Wilbur D. Mills and Shirley Chisholm and former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford.

With much of the Humphrey and Muskie strength now listed in the undecided column, the Associated Press count gave McGovern 1,590.75 votes as the day of his nomination dawned. The total needed for nomination is 1,509.

Wallace trailed with 378, the 850.6 and the remainder were scattered.

McGovern spent much of the day Tuesday in his 17th-story penthouse in the Doral Beach Hotel. "He's working on his acceptance speech and, I dare say, thinking about the vice-presidential thing," said spokesman Richard Dougherty.

The senator met with various groups during the day, including relatives of a half-dozen American prisoners of war in Southeast Asia.

McGovern promised to stand by American prisoners, a pledge that marked what aides said was "an elaboration" of his Southeast Asia policy.

See Only Modest Chance For Break In Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States heads back into the Vietnam peace talks Thursday amid only modest predictions here about prospects for a settlement any time soon.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, due in late today from a round-the-world trip, said before leaving Rome that he is generally hopeful the reopening Paris parley might bring some movement by a Hanoi negotiator toward ending the war.

Assistant Secretary Marshall Green, the State Department's top Far East expert returned from and East Asian tour affirming that the United States will work hard for a settlement.

"But I think we are dealing, quite realistically," Green said, "with pretty hard-bitten, intransigent, struggle-minded leaders in Hanoi."

President Nixon's security affairs adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, told newsmen over the weekend that "at least we have some reason to believe that maybe there will be a new approach" by North Vietnam.

"But we cannot guarantee it," he said, "because it will not be certain until we have heard it from them."

Washington analysts have spotted no particular shift in North Vietnam's position in the public remarks of Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy upon his arrival in Paris Monday.

They say Hanoi's terms would mean, in effect, a Communist takeover of South Vietnam.

However, Le Duc Tho, the Hanoi Politburo member who has met secretly with Kissinger in the past, is reported on his way to Paris and what he says privately may or may not diverge from their public stance.

Nixon announced June 29th that he was resuming the long-stalemated Paris meetings, suspended May 4, "on the assumption that the North Vietnamese are prepared to negotiate in a constructive and serious way."

Administration spokesmen have yet to disclose what evidence they may have that Hanoi intends to alter her position. They added the United States will not drop its refusal of North Vietnam's central demand for a coalition government in Saigon.

The administration's main stated reasons for some optimism is because of North Vietnam's circumstances now. Roger noted that Hanoi's spring offensive has failed, U.S. bombing of the North is highly successful, Nixon's Moscow and Peking trips have strengthened the world climate for peace, and continuing the war serves nobody's interests.

Wallace Has His Moment At Democratic Convention

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Crippled Alabama Gov. George Wallace came smiling and claimed his moment of drama.

Accorded a long-awaited Democratic National Convention appearance to argue his platform views, Wallace was greeted by a lusty ovation and heard in an aura of good behavior.

"I am here," said the man who bolted the Democrats in 1968, "because I want to help."

"I want it to become again the party of the average citizen as it used to be and not the party of the pseudo-intellectual snobbery that it has come to be."

But while his familiar call for slashes in foreign aid and an end to "the senseless, asinine busing of little school children" evoked cheers enough to flood the convention center, it was clear that the hearts and minds of most would not be swayed from Sen. George McGovern, the man to be nominated tonight.

The loudest cheers arose expectedly from the Alabama, Michigan, Florida and Texas delegations, their "Wallace for President" banners held high and their hopes soon to be shattered in the subsequent balloting over the various planks tailored for McGovern.

But there were no walkouts, as in 1968, and few outbursts of bitterness. One Wallace delegate from Florida met his tearful wife in the lobby and said, "Honey, let's go have a beer and then get back to work. It's going to be a long night."

It was Wallace's first appearance before a large crowd since he was shot in a Laurel, Md., shopping center on May 15. He was 15 pounds slimmer and his voice seemed weaker, but he looked fit and alert as he leaned into the podium. Television viewers could not tell that he was in a wheelchair, but they saw pictures of him being lifted onto the podium boxes.

The convention already had seen unprecedented security, but as Wallace's arrival neared, scores of additional police and Secret Service agents took up stations in the hall. Visitors and newsmen were cautioned to remain seated, and cameras and briefcases were searched repeatedly.

While the governor's address lacked the old fire and was notably void of any personal attacks or threats to quit the party again, it was full of the same litany which marked his primary campaigning.

There were a few boos, most of them aimed at his remarks over school busing, but they were effectively dampened by the cheers.

Demo Reforms Are Widened For 1976

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Delegates to the Democratic National Convention have voted to continue the reforms inaugurated this year in an attempt to make it the true "party of the people."

By voice vote Tuesday night delegates adopted several more reforms aimed at insuring that the 1976 Democratic presidential candidate is nominated by delegate states which reflect the social mix even more than 1972 delegations.

This year's reforms added more women, blacks and young persons to the delegations.

One reform adopted for 1976 calls for adequate representation for persons of low income.

Another abolished winner-take-all primaries such as in California, which this year spurred the biggest credentials battle of the convention.

Sen. George McGovern won California's 271 delegates in the primary. But his opponents unsuccessfully petitioned the Credentials Committee, the courts and the convention itself to divide the California delegation in proportion equal to the voting.

In 1976, a proportional division will be required.

Another reform would end the primary practice in some states of allowing open primaries where Republicans may cross over and vote for Democrats. The 1976 guidelines will require states to adopt rules saying that only persons who have been registered Democrats for at least 14 days before a primary may participate in that election.

Amid reports that some reform delegations do not have enough to pay their hotel bills, the delegates also approved a rule which would require the Democratic National Committee to put 8 per cent of its annual income — about $180,000 — into a fund to help poor delegates meet the costs of attending a convention.

City Board . . .

The board spoke with a representative of Columbus Heating and Ventilating Co. about furnace repair at the junior high. He informed the board that furnaces in the oldest section of the school, installed in 1918 as sectional cast iron coal and converted in the 1950s to gas, were in serious need of repair. He recommended a complete dismantling of all four units and total rebuilding with necessary new parts. Other repairs to controls and units were advised, including consideration of a later replacement of thermostats.

The representative advised the board that a number of the furnace control units were probably 50 years old and considered antiques.

Members of the city board agreed to the furnace rebuilding program and intend to adopt continued programs to renew the heating system in the building.

Attending Tuesday evening's meeting were Tom Elsea, president in the absence of President Dale DeLong, Mrs. Ruth Kraus, Robert Liggett, Forrest Brown, Superintendent Fritz Jacobs, Clerk Mary Ellen Rader, Elementary Supervisor Donald Metzler.

Sheriff's Deputies Investigate 3 Freak Accidents Tuesday

Three unusual traffic accidents, which injured two persons, were investigated by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Tuesday.

One of the accidents involved a small boy running in front of an ambulance transporting a patient to a hospital, another occurred when a car rolled away from a man who was working on it, and the third occurred when a car wouldn't let another pass.

The small boy, David Kneec, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kneec, 103 School St., New Holland, apparently darted between two cars at the intersection of S. Main St. and School St. in New Holland 10:20 a.m. Tuesday and was hit by Kirk's Ambulance from the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home.

Driver of the ambulance, Gary R. Kirkpatrick, 27, New Holland, transported the youth to Fayette Memorial Hospital and then to Children's Hospital, Columbus, for observation of head injuries and a possible skull fracture.

Kirkpatrick told Deputy Sheriff Warren Straley he was driving north on S. Main St., taking Mrs. Opal Drake, 65, to the Washington C. H. Hospital.

He pulled off the roadway and attached an oxygen unit for the woman.

After starting up again, he spotted the youth, and another boy, running from the left side. He applied his brakes, skidding 50 feet, before hitting young Kneec and knocking him 18 feet.

Stephen L. Fisher, 23, Route 1, Lockbourne, was referred to a doctor for treatment of an injury to his left hand after trying to stop his runaway car.

According to Deputy J. Phillip Brown's report, Fisher was working on the running motor of his car 9:15 p.m. Tuesday on private property in the Planeview Trailer Court, when the car apparently slipped into gear and started moving towards a trailer.

Fisher jumped into the auto but couldn't control it. The car destroyed three rods of fence owned by James O. Wise, Route 1, Lockbourne, swung around and hit a block wall, also owned by Wise.

The car sustained only minor damage. Deputy Bill Dountz arrested both drivers of cars involved in a 2:05 p.m. crash.

According to his report, the accident occurred on Route 62, about a half a mile north of the Circleville - London - Northern Road when a car driven by Emerson Lee Babbington, 42, Hillsboro, cut in front of a car driven by Michael Albertini, 18, Columbus, as Babbington was passing Albertini's car.

No one was injured in the crash. Babbington was charged with changing lanes without caution. Albertini received a citation for driving an unsafe vehicle.

According to witness statements, Albertini's car matched pace with Babbington's as Babbington was in the passing lane.

He was forced to return to the right side of the highway by an oncoming car, hitting Albertini's auto in the right front.

McGovern spent much of the day Tuesday in his 17th-story penthouse in the Doral Beach Hotel. "He's working on his acceptance speech and, I dare say, thinking about the vice-presidential thing," said spokesman Richard Dougherty.

The senator met with various groups during the day, including relatives of a half-dozen American prisoners of war in Southeast Asia.

McGovern promised to stand by American prisoners, a pledge that marked what aides said was "an elaboration" of his Southeast Asia policy.

State Notes Area Schools Benefit From Income Tax

A computerized study reveals that Pickaway County schools are receiving the benefit of an additional $886,349 to operate as a result of the income tax which the 109th General Assembly enacted last December.

Additional dollars which have been provided by the income tax to keep county elementary and secondary schools operating are the equivalent of a 5.17 mill property tax, the computed figures show.

For Circleville City Schools, the new legislation means an annual increase of over $416,851 over former state foundation payments, or nearly $115 more per pupil for the district to spend. Figures given reveal past legislation guaranteed Circleville an annual payment of $666,035 while House Bill 475 will mean a total of just over $1 million.

Benefits of the tax bill were noted already, since the bill was made retroactive to December, meaning the new computation was in effect the rest of the year. That seven month period brought an additional $243,000.

LOGAN Elm is the least benefitted by the bill of all county schools, receiving yearly increase of only $8,719 which figures out to an additional $6 per pupil. That district received $194,134 under the old legislation, but because of its high tax valuation and a change in the base determining need, computation for 1,520 pupils reveals the new annual rate of state payment would be only $202,800.

So far, the district has experienced a $5,000 increase in state payments figuring the seven months under the new bill.

The state department revealed that Laurelsville Schools, during 1971-72, received a total of $293,000 in state aid. Because of the transfer, Logan Elm has been guaranteed about 83 per cent of this amount for the next three years, regardless of enrollment and total tax base of the combined districts.

The House Bill 475 offered Laurelsville a $142 per pupil increase annually or over $115,000 for the entire district.

For Teays Valley students, the increase amounts to $102 per child annually. That district went from $356,860 for 2,662 students to $628,055, an increase of $271,000 annually.

The increases noted so far is an additional $158,197 received since the bill was approved in March, 1972, retroactive to December.

WESTFALL'S 1,819 students who formerly made the computation for state aid amount to $240,000, now have increased the payment to $430,000 under the new law. This increase of $189,500 for the year means an additional state payment of $104 per pupil. Actual increase in funds noted during the 1971-72 school year is $110,591.

The department noted that the additional amounts of state money would be the equivalent of a 14.60 mill levy in Laurelsville; an 8.81 mill levy increase in Circleville; a .20 mill increase for Logan Elm;

a 5.86 mill increase for Teays Valley and a 5.66 mill increase for Wesfall.

Miami Beach Protests Continuous

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Cubans marched for freedom to fight. Vietnam veterans marched for peace. And farm workers marched against Florida Gov. Reubin Askew's migrant manpower training program.

Students for a Democratic Society protested a fashion show for political leaders' wives. And the Southern Christian Leadership Conference continued to demand 750 floor seats to the Democratic National Convention under threat of "Other actions like blocking intersections."

It all went on peacefully outside the perimeter fence at Convention Hall and surrounding Tuesday. Delegates and spectators with seats inside were inconvenienced only to the extent of being shunted to gates farthest away from the demonstration of the moment.

"We want the people inside the convention to know that we want to go back to Cuba. We want a free hand to buy guns," said a spokesman for 1,000 demonstrators Cubans as they walked around the sprawling convention grounds.

Close on their heels came 2,000 residents of Resurrection City II and sympathizers, led by the Vietnam Veterans Against the War.

Simultaneous rallies of Cubans and veterans were in progress on broad Washington Avenue, but marshals for the two groups joined arms and kept them separated by about 100 yards.

Hundreds of riot-ready police from South Florida cities and the Florida Marine Patrol stood at close intervals inside the fence line. But there was no occasion to use their long riot sticks or cans of chemical mace.

The smelt is a close relative of the trout and salmon with its ancestral home in the salt water of the Atlantic Ocean.

Tax Credit Proposed

The proposal by Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater for a federal income tax credit of up to $150 against property taxes as applied to schools is the kind of revenue-sharing program which would give widest benefit to the average citizen in the least cumbersome way.

Escalating property taxes, particularly that portion which goes to school districts, are among the most rapidly rising levies. They are exerting pressures not only on family budgets but on the residential housing construction market. They could, if not brought under control, change the lifestyles radically for the next generation of Americans.

Goldwater proposes a tax credit, rather than an exemption, which would give dramatic tax relief to taxpayers of all income classes. It would have its most widespread effect on the broad middle income group of homeowners.

"These taxes," Goldwater said, "hit especially hard at retired persons who in their older age are living on fixed and small incomes. But they are also severely felt by the vast majority of salaried taxpayers who are unable to take advantage of special business tax credits or to reduce their taxable incomes with a wide range of expense deductions."

Capitol Brink

The destruction of the West Front of the U.S. Capitol, the last remaining of the original walls, is on the brink of acceptance or rejection. The issue was started on this perilous route when the Commission for the Extension of the Capitol, which includes many leaders of Congress, voted in closed session last March to go ahead with plans to extend the structure some 80 feet beyond the present wall.

Members of the Senate, refusing to follow their leadership in this instance, have included a restriction in the legislative appropriations bill to prohibit spending $2 million, previously allocated, to begin remodeling work. Conferees from the House, however, have offered to authorize restoration of the old Senate and Supreme Court chambers if the Senate will approve the Capitol extension.

Old Coalition Death Knell

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

If there was ever any truth to the suspicion that George McGovern, who inherited so many of Bobby Kennedy's staffers, has been conducting a holding operation for Teddy Kennedy, it is surely undercut by the South Dakotan's own demeanor. He wants [the nomination so badly] that he can taste it even in his sleep. If the Kennedyites really hoped to use George McGovern, a supposition that certainly became debatable after Chappaquiddick, they are now in the position of Dr. Frankenstein, who created a monster and found he couldn't keep it under control.

What is at issue here is not the question of Camelot's salvageability. The issue is the remaking of a party. This has been Senator McGovern's overriding passion for two years. The so-called McGovern Rules were formulated to get the people who were on the Chicago streets in 1968 into the convention hall, and to throw the old insiders out. Unless Hubert Humphrey, an old insider, can pull a miracle, 1968 has been reversed.

With his success in bringing the blacks, the women, the students, the less influential ethnics (Goody, Mayor Daley's Irish Americans), and various assorted intellectuals who are to the Left of the New Deal, into the delegations, McGovern has blown the old Roosevelt coalition sky high. The Old Democrats of the South (Roosevelt got along with a lot of people who would now be called Wallaceites) must follow Texas's John Connally into the Nixon camp. The big Jewish populations of New York City and California, contemplating what McGovern might do to decimate America's air and sea power in the Mediterranean, must wonder whether a pacifist is deserving of the old-time Jewish liberal support.

The city bosses of the Roosevelt era are either gone, or they have changed into unrecognizable devils who might even counsel their followers to vote Republican. Frank Rizzo, the Democratic Mayor of Philadelphia, has already announced that he is in Nixon's corner. At the moment of writing, Boss Daley of Chicago still hopes that the convention will overturn its own Credentials Committee and reseat his discarded delegates. But no matter what happens in the seating quarrel, if McGovern is the eventual nominee Daley would presumably echo the sentiments of the anti-Bryanites of the Eighteen Nineties who said "We are Democrats still, very still."

Even the ethnics, who were with Roosevelt practically 100 per cent, must find themselves with fractured loyalties. Mark R. Levy and Michael S. Kramer, who have just published their sapient "The Ethnic Factor: How America's Minorities Decide Elections," note that the Irish have at last been assimilated and have ceased to regard themselves as ethnics of any kind. The Italians and the Poles, mainly Catholic, can't go with McGovern's quoted statements on abortion, even though McGovern has said he'll let the states make their own pro- or anti-abortion laws.

This does not mean that McGovern would not get majorities in many ethnic enclaves. But the percentages would shrink, particularly in Michigan (which fears busing), and in places where people of Salvo origin are determined to defend the hard-earned value of their homes against the combined assault of the Federal bulldozer and the blockbuster trying to find new turf for the blacks. As for labor, another mainstay of the old Rooseveltian coalition, if it officially goes for McGovern it will do so without the fervor needed to get the boys to the polls in the right frame of mind. The remnants of the Rooseveltian coalition won't die without a fight. And McGovern, a politician to the last bit of marrow in his wishbone, will do his best to conciliate the discordant elements provided he can be assured they have no chance of depriving him of what he considers his just rights. But if McGovern wins the nomination, the power in the party will go to the New Breeds.

The platform, like every other platform in history, will be remade by the exigencies of the campaign. McGovern will have to heed the New Greens, which automatically means that he must displease whole segments of the Old Democratic Party, beginning with Mayor Rizzo's Philadelphia Democrats, and going on through Boss Daley's disgruntled ward captains to the California voters who supported Hubert Humphrey and the laborites who catch the wink in George Meany's eye.

By the end of this week we will know whether a party can almost totally remake itself and remain worth a plugged nickel. The biggest unknown X is George Wallace's muscle tone and its effect on the wounded Alabama's emotional and intellectual resiliency. If McGovern is to win in the South, George Wallace must be mollified. But how is that possible with the New Breeds breathing down George McGovern's neck?

It will be a fascinating week, all right, and some of us will watch it with the frightened awe that would be induced by the spectacle of a python shedding its old skin within striking distance of one's unprotected feet.

Would you tell me what causes one to dream? Is one's sleep less sound when one dreams?

I have been dreaming every night for several years. My dreams are mostly frustrating.

Mrs. J. H. K., Conn.

Dear Mrs. K.: The mysteries of dreams and sleep have only recently been liberated by intensive scientific research. At one time, it was so difficult to evaluate dreams that the entire field was disregarded. This left the field wide open for exploitation by those who invented their own myths and superstitions. "Dream books" were sold to the gullible, who then based their lives on the "predictions" and false interpretations of their dreams.

Today the study of dreams is occupying the attention of psychologists and psychiatrists. It began when it was noted that infants, when asleep, had rapid eye movements beneath their closed eyelids.

Now there is known to be a definite relationship between REM (Rapid Eye Movements) and vivid dreams. The basic concept of the "master of dreams," Dr. Sigmund Freud, is now being substantiated with scientific studies that were previously not available. In a very simplistic way, it might be said that Dr. Freud believed that dreams were the ways an individual worked out inner conflicts.

It is now accepted that some dreams represent stresses that can interfere with normal, healthy sleep and with the replenishing of the energy afforded by sound sleep. Dreams may therefore play an important role in explaining why some people can function well with five hours of sleep while others are barely mobile after 10 hours of sleep.

The fact that you are disturbed and frustrated by your dreams would indicate that you may need some psychological help and guidance. In this way, deeper levels of your consciousness may be released to the trained observer. It is surprising how simple the explanation sometimes is when discussed with an expert in the field.

Research into the mysterious realm of sleep and dream patterns holds great promise. I live in a high altitude area. Since my blood pressure is higher than normal, would I benefit by moving closer to sea level?

Mr. G. S., Wyo.

Dear Mr. S.: Many years ago, a study seemed to indicate that the blood pressure in adults was lower in tropical and sea-level areas.

I don't think this has great validity, since high blood pressure does occur in these areas, too.

Each individual case of high blood pressure must be evaluated alone, since so many other factors are involved.

My suggestion is that you continue active treatment with your own physician. A trial period in a sea level area, under a doctor's supervision, might be beneficial. But a definite move to a distant climate may be disappointing and only serve to further increase stress and tension.

The Business World

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ (For John Cuniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — The prime lending rate, now going up, is generally overblown as an economic indicator or influence, bank economists say.

The prime rate is the interest banks charge on loans to their best corporate customers and it is always lower than the rate for longer and smaller consumer loans.

The prime rate, they say, really only confirms the trend of other rates involving much more money. And the current increase, they add, isn't likely to affect the economy or consumers' pocketbooks.

"The drama tied to changes in the prime rate has been really overplayed," says Leif H. Olsen, senior vice president and economist at New York's First National City Bank, whose own prime rate is now one of the highest in the country. "The prime rate by itself is just not that significant."

The prime rate grew to be closely watched in years past because it was changed fairly infrequently and the changes were direct decisions of bankers who presumably had tested the economic winds. But changes have come more frequently in recent years and some banks have even adopted "floating" rates which can adjust themselves automatically every week through formulas pegged to other interest rates.

First National City was the first to adopt a floating rate last year and its rate has signaled ever more widespread change in the rate since then.

It led banks in boosting the rate to 5 1/2 per cent last month and while other banks were still catching up, moved on to 5 3/4 per cent.

Pittsburgh's Mellon National Bank & Trust Co., which recently adopted a floating rate and move with Citibank to 5 1/2 per cent, bosted its rate to 5 1/2 per cent starting this week. Bankers say other bigger banks will probably match that level before long.

The rate had bottomed out at many banks earlier this year at 4 per cent after generally declining from a record peak of 8 1/2 per cent in mid-1969.

"It is normal for the prime rate to rise in a healthy economy when credit demand from business, consumers and the government is strong, and that's what we're seeing now," says Olsen. "But what is really more significant is the rise in rates in the open market or short term rates because a much larger amount of credit is affected there."

"The prime rate is of course a key rate to business borrowers, who have to consider the cost of borrowing money into their financial planning," says an economist at another major New York bank. "But it is really only a reflection of what has happened in the economy. It doesn't lead other rates up or down, but merely confirms a rate trend."

The short term rates involve such instruments as commercial paper, Treasury bills and federal funds. Commercial paper is an IOU issued by a corporate borrower and sold to another corporation, foundation or banks. Treasury bills are securities issued by the Treasury and federal funds involve borrowing of funds among banks.

The prime rate changes to remain competitive with these other money market charges, to keep potential customers dealing with banks for investments and loans.

good of the village and the people therein.

In the last year the mayor and several other public officials have been very negligent in performing their duties. I feel that when a person voted in by the people cannot fulfill his job according to the rules written by the village fathers they should resign and let someone more capable and more interested in what is good for the village and the voters step in.

Instead of running an ad in the paper about not wanting to do the job, only the way you want it done, why not step down so someone else can do it for the people and in the way it should be done.

Its really pretty funny when a public official has to run an ad to keep the people he is supposed to be working for off his back. A job well done for the town's interest and for the people needs no rebuttal.

Hoping for a more interested mayor and council.

He wants the nomination so badly that he can taste it even in his sleep. If the Kennedys really hoped to use George McGovern, a supposition that certainly became debatable after Chappaquiddick, they are now in the position of Dr. Frankenstein, who created a monster and found he couldn't keep it under control.

What is at issue here is not the question of Camelot's salvageability. The issue is the remaking of a party. This has been Senator McGovern's overriding passion for two years. The so-called McGovern Rules were formulated to get the people who were on the Chicago streets in 1968 into the convention hall, and to throw the old insiders out. Unless Hubert Humphrey, an old insider, can pull a miracle, 1968 has been reversed.

With his success in bringing the blacks, the women, the students, the less influential ethnics (Goodby, Mayor Daley's Irish Americans), and various assorted intellectuals who are to the left of the New Deal, into the delegations, McGovern has blown the old Roosevelt coalition sky high. The Old Democrats of the South (Roosevelt got along with a lot of people who would now be called Wallaceites) must follow Texas's John Connally into the Nixon camp. The big Jewish populations of New York City and California, contemplating what McGovern might do to decimate America's air and sea power in the Mediterranean, must wonder whether a pacifist is deserving of the old-time Jewish liberal support.

The city bosses of the

Roosevelt era are either gone, or they have changed into unrecognizable devils who might even counsel their followers to vote Republican. Frank Rizzo, the Democratic Mayor of Philadelphia, has already announced that he is in Nixon's corner. At the moment of writing, Boss Daley of Chicago still hopes that the convention will overturn its own Credentials Committee and reseat his discarded delegates. But no matter what happens in the seating quarrel, if McGovern is the eventual nominee Daley would presumably echo the sentiments of the anti-Bryanites of the Eighteen Nineties who said "We are Democrats still, very still."

Even the ethnics, who were with Roosevelt practically 100 per cent, must find themselves with fractured loyalties. Mark R. Levy and Michael S. Kramer, who have just published their sapient "The Ethnic Factor: How America's Minorities Decide Elections," note that the Irish have at last been assimilated and have ceased to regard themselves as ethnics of any kind. The Italians and the Poles, mainly Catholic, can't go with McGovern's quoted statements on abortion, even though McGovern has said he'll let the states make their own pro- or anti-abortion laws.

This does not mean that McGovern would not get majorities in many ethnic enclaves. But the percentages would shrink, particularly in Michigan (which fears busing), and in places where people of Salvic origin are determined to defend the hard-earned value of their homes against the combined assault of the Federal bulldozer and the blockbuster trying to find new turf for the blacks. As for labor, another mainstay of the old Roosevelt coalition, if it officially goes for McGovern it will do so without the fever needed to get the boys to the polls in the right frame of mind. The remnants of the Roosevelt coalition won't die without a fight. And McGovern, a politician to the last bit of marrow in his wishbone, will do his best to conciliate the discordant elements provided he can be assured they have no chance of depriving him of what he considers his just rights. But if McGovern wins the nomination, the power in the party will go to the New Breeds.

The platform, like every other platform in history, will be remade by the exigencies of the campaign. McGovern will have to heed the New Greeds, which automatically means that he must displace whole segments of the Old Democratic Party, beginning with Mayor Rizzo's Philadelphia Democrats, and going on through Boss Daley's disgruntled ward captains to the California voters who supported Hubert Humphrey and the laborites who catch the wink in George Meany's eye.

By the end of this week we will know whether a party can almost totally remake itself and remain worth a plugged nickel. The biggest unknown X is George Wallace's muscle tone and its effect on the wounded Alabama's emotional and intellectual resiliency. If McGovern is to win in the South, George Wallace must be mollified. But how is that possible with the New Breeds breathing down George McGovern's neck?

It will be a fascinating week, all right, and some of us will watch it with the frightened awe that would be induced by the spectacle of a python shedding its old skin within striking distance of one's unprotected feet.

Would you tell me what causes one to dream? Is one's sleep less sound when one dreams?

I have been dreaming every night for several years. My dreams are mostly frustrating.

Mrs. J. H. K., Conn.

Dear Mrs. K.: The mysteries of dreams and sleep have only recently been liberated by intensive scientific research. At one time, it was so difficult to evaluate dreams that the entire field was disregarded. This left the field wide open for exploitation by those who invented their own myths and superstitions.

"Dream books" were sold to the gullible, who then based their lives on the "predictions" and false interpretations of their dreams.

Today the study of dreams is occupying the attention of psychologists and psychiatrists. It began when it was noted that infants, when asleep, had rapid eye movements beneath their closed eyelids.

Now there is known to be a definite relationship between REM (Rapid Eye Movements) and vivid dreams.

The basic concept of the "master of dreams," Dr. Sigmund Freud, is now being substantiated with scientific studies that were previously not available. In a very simplistic way, it might be said that Dr. Freud believed that dreams were the ways an individual worked out inner conflicts.

It is now accepted that some dreams represent stresses that can interfere with normal, healthy sleep and with the replenishing of the energy afforded by sound sleep. Dreams may therefore play an important role in explaining why some people can function well with five hours of sleep while others are barely mobile after 10 hours of sleep.

The fact that you are disturbed and frustrated by your dreams would indicate that you may need some psychological help and guidance. In this way, deeper levels of your consciousness may be released to the trained observer. It is surprising how simple the explanation sometimes is when discussed with an expert in the field.

Research into the mysterious realm of sleep and dream patterns holds great promise.

I live in a high altitude area. Since my blood pressure is higher than normal, would I benefit by moving closer to sea level?

Mr. G. S. Wyo.

Many years ago, a study seemed to indicate that the blood pressure in adults was lower in tropical and sea-level areas.

I don't think this has great validity, since high blood pressure does occur in these areas, too.

Each individual case of high blood pressure must be evaluated alone, since so many other factors are involved. My suggestion is that you continue active treatment with your own physician. A trial period in a sea level area, under a doctor's supervision, might be beneficial. But a definite move to a distant climate may be disappointing and only serve to further increase stress and tension.

The Business World

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ (For John Cuniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — The prime lending rate, now going up, is generally overblown as an economic indicator or influence, bank economists say.

The prime rate is the interest banks charge on loans to their best corporate customers and it is always lower than the rate for longer and smaller consumer loans.

The prime rate, they say, really only confirms the trend of other rates involving much more money. And the current increase, they add, isn't likely to affect the economy or consumers' pocketbooks.

"The drama tied to changes in the prime rate has been really overplayed," says Leif H. Olsen, senior vice president and economist at New York's First National City Bank, whose own prime rate is now one of the highest in the country. "The prime rate by itself is just not that significant."

The prime rate grew to be closely watched in years past because it was changed fairly infrequently and the changes were direct decisions of bankers who presumably had tested the economic winds. But changes have come more frequently in recent years and some banks have even adopted "floating" rates which can adjust themselves automatically every week through formulas pegged to other interest rates.

First National City was the first to adopt a floating rate last year and its rate has signaled ever more widespread change in the rate since then.

It led banks in boosting the rate to 5 1/4 per cent last month and while other banks were still catching up, moved on to 5 3/4 per cent.

Pittsburgh's Mellon National Bank & Trust Co., which recently adopted a floating rate and moved with Citibank to 5 1/2 per cent, boosted its rate to 5 3/4 per cent starting this week. Bankers say other bigger banks will probably match that level before long.

The rate had bottomed out at many banks earlier this year at 4 per cent after generally declining from a record peak of 8 1/2 per cent in mid-1969.

"It is normal for the prime rate to rise in a healthy economy when credit demand from business, consumers and the government is strong, and that's what we're seeing now," says Olsen. "But what is really more significant is the rise in rates in the open market or short term rates because a much larger amount of credit is affected there."

"The prime rate is of course a key rate to business borrowers, who have to consider the cost of borrowing money into their financial planning," says an economist at another major New York bank. "But it is really only a reflection of what has happened in the economy. It doesn't lead other rates up or down, but merely confirms a rate trend."

The short term rates involve such instruments as commercial paper, Treasury bills and federal funds. Commercial paper is an IOU issued by a corporate borrower and sold to another corporation, foundation or banks. Treasury bills are securities issued by the Treasury and federal funds involve borrowing of funds among banks.

The prime rate changes to remain competitive with these other money market charges, to keep potential customers dealing with banks for investments and loans.

Dear Editor:

While attending little league games this summer and in summers past, I have seen on numerous occasions little children in the area of the swings and playground equipment between the little league diamond almost get hit by speeding automobiles.

Usually the drivers have a load of teenage kids and are trying to impress others on how much get up and go they have under their hoods. One parent told me that they saw a motorcycle and car drag racing in the area recently.

Don't council members and parents think its about time something is done about this problem before a child is hit.

In the area mentioned, why can't blacktop rises be installed

I was told by a park board member that this area is a city street and can't be blocked or have these rises installed according to city ordinance.

For safety's sake an ordinance broken here would be better to live with than a lost life.

Let's do something about it now rather than say later that we should have done something.

Dear Editor:

In regard to the notice recently (June 30) published in The Herald, I would like to answer for myself and several other residents.

We realize that jobs of officials in this small town do not pay very much and the citizens are very unappreciative at times. The people here voted you into your office with the hope that you would fulfill your position to the best of your knowledge and certainly for the good of the village and the people therein.

In the last year the mayor and several other public officials have been very negligent in performing their duties. I feel that when a person voted in by the people cannot fulfill his job according to the rules written by the village fathers they should resign and let someone more capable and more interested in what is good for the village and the voters step in.

Instead of running an ad in the paper about not wanting to do the job, only the way you want it done, why not step down so someone else can do it for the people and in the way it should be done.

Its really pretty funny when a public official has to run an ad to keep the people he is supposed to be working for off his back. A job well done for the town's interest and for the people needs no rebuttal.

Hoping for a more interested mayor and council.

Farmers in the river lowlands were replanting sweet corn which had been washed out by high waters.

Thaddeus Cromley, a 33-year-old Ashville area farmer, received a neck injury when he fell from a full hay wagon.

George W. Mallett was employed by the Wayne Twp. board of education as seventh and eighth grade teacher and principal, to succeed Miss Eula Dowden.

The 180-acre farm that had been in the Swearingen family for nearly 140 years — since 1798 — changed hands. James Swearingen announced the Jackson Twp. property had been sold to Harry J. Briggs, Paul McGinnis and William McGinnis. The section of property sold had been part of a 1,000 acre tract granted to Major Bedinger of Virginia for his work for the colonies during the Revolutionary War. Sara, daughter of Major Bedinger, married Col. James S. Swearingen who later held title to the land.

J. C. Moats opened a used car lot in connection with his National Refining Co. station at Main St. and Western Ave. His automobile business, which he had operated for the past 12 years at Clinton and Corwin St. was continued.

Felix R. Caldwell died of a heart attack at the age of 58. He was a well known farm manager and retired attorney Reber Bell, N. Court St., Circleville's leading amateur radio operator, told persons here that attempts by Columbus radio men to pick up rescue messages from Amelia Earhart were "out of the question" as it was very improbable the signals could be received over the distance.

City council was facing bad financial conditions — serious enough to consider a cutback in employees' wages. One method of gaining additional revenue considered was licensing of bicycles in the city.

As an intense wave of hot weather covered the midwest, Pickaway County recorded its hottest day of the year with the mercury rising to 93 degrees. Swarms of hungry mosquitos had earlier moved into the city, believed brought by the extreme high water, and with the hot weather provided very little comfort for Round-towners.

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—One woman was slightly injured Tuesday night when a Good-year Tire and Rubber Co. Jet taking off from Akron-Canton Airport knocked down high tension wires along Interstate 77.

The State Highway Patrol said the four-car accident occurred as motorists tried to avoid the lines. The patrol said traffic was tied up for two hours until the lines were removed from the roadway. The pilot told the patrol he thought he had hit a bird with his fuselage.

FAA Says Use Of Force In Skyjackings Justified

WASHINGTON (AP) — Decisions to use force against a hijacker rather than submit to him are carefully weighed in advance, says John H. Shaffer, Federal Aviation Administrator.

The decisions by the air crews in consultation with federal authorities, including the FBI, are balanced against the risks involved before action is taken, he says.

In the case of the two hijackers shot to death aboard their commandeered plane at San Francisco, and the one killed in the attempted hijacking of a 747 at Saigon, the circumstances were carefully weighed and the response was appropriate, Shaffer said in an interview Monday.

"Our strengthened stand against hijacking does not necessarily mean we shot first," he said.

7 Suffer Smoke Inhalation At Cleveland Nursing Home

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Seven persons were taken to Cleveland hospitals for smoke inhalation Tuesday night after a fire broke out in the Golden Age Nursing Home.

Eighty elderly people, many invalids, were in the East 152nd Street home when the fire broke out. More than 50 policemen and volunteers used chairs, wheelchairs and beds to move patients into streets and sidewalks.

Euclid General Hospital said the four nursing home residents being treated there were in fair condition. They were identified as Ada Gardner, Louise Brooks, Joanna Schneller and Eli Freedland.

Huron Road Hospital reported 60-year-old Percy Stewart and 69-year-old Florence Joslin were in good condition and Ada Wise was in guarded condition. The latter was ill before the fire started but also suffered smoke inhalation, the hospital said.

Euclid General also was treating eight other nursing home patients unaffected by the smoke and fire who were in need of some regular medical or nursing care.

The fire broke out in a basement laundry-storage room and was confined to that area, firemen said. Cause was not immediately determined, but the arson squad was to begin an investigation.

Assistant Fire Chief Matthew A. Fitzgerald estimated damage to the building at $10,000 and to the contents at $5,000.

"A potentially dangerous situation was contained by very aggressive action by the fire department," said Fitzgerald. "Serious loss of life was averted. It was a spectacularly effective job, especially when looking over the record of nursing home fires."

Attendants carried some patients out of the three-story brick building in their arms, after a fire-warning device set off an alarm.

Officials were contacting Greater Cleveland hospitals to find shelter for the residents of the home. More than 45 patients were transferred to the Collinwood United Methodist Church to spend the night. Others were taken to nearby Collinwood High School.

Views On TV - Radio

Editor's Note: During Cynthia Lowry's vacation, the column is being written by invited guests, each of whom was asked to respond to specific questions about some area of television. Here is the report of Jack Lord, for the past four years star of CBS' action series, "Hawaii Five-O," produced and filmed in the islands.

By JACK LORD

Q. Since success inevitably is accompanied by some criticism, what do you say and how do you react to hostile-sounding stories about the show and the star?

A. The first thing I say is, "We're still on the air and well into production for our fifth year." Recently I saw some statistics on the subject of longevity and found, to my amazement and considerable satisfaction, that only five dramatic shows in the history of filmed television on CBS made it to the fifth year. So hostile stories harm.

How do I react? Nobody likes to be the target of another's hostility but I realize that no one gets through this life without enemies. If you take the time to examine motives, it's pretty simple to find the answers in most cases. Usually, it's that four-letter word E-N-V-Y. Then I end up with more pity than resentment toward the mudslinger.

Q. In this year of the hold-down on violence, will there be any basic changes in the straight cops-and-robbers format of the show?

A. Frankly, I've never thought of "Five-O" as a straight cops-and-robbers format. We've tackled dope problems, prostitution, runaway girls, youth in rebellion, corruption in high places, romantic episodes, spy cases, political assassination and even comedy in the two episodes we did with Hume Cronyn.

I think we'll stick to our format, striving for a rainbow of themes and plots so that the mix will be interesting and exciting. And of course we will continue to shoot every foot of film in what is probably the most beautiful location in the world, Hawaii.

Watch out, Jack, you're making people envious and you know what that could bring. So I'll say with a Texas gentleman who wrote this prayer: "Lord, fill my mouth with worthwhile stuff and nudge me when I've said enough." Aloha and Mahalo.

4 Lessons To Learn

DEAR ABBY: The names are fictitious but I am telling it like it is: My name is Debbie. I have been dating a fellow named John. I mentioned to John that Linda, a good friend of mine, is fantastically well put together. John calls Linda and asks her for date. Linda accepts. She then tells Carol (who is also a friend of mine) about her date with John. Carol tells me. Naturally I am humiliated and angry.

I contend that when John called Linda, she should have refused him immediately saying she and I were good friends and then hung up the phone. Furthermore, Linda shouldn't have told Carol or anyone else about her date with John because it made me look like a fool.

My friends contend that everything worked out for the best and I am lucky to have found out that John was bad news. What is your opinion?

DEBBIE

DEAR DEBBIE: Your friends are right. But there are several lessons to be learned here:

- (1) Never "mention" to a boy friend that another girl is "fantastically well put together" (He may not be able to resist the chance to "take her apart.")
- (2) If a man is interesting, few girls, out of loyalty to a girl friend, will pass up a chance to date him.
- (3) Your friend Linda talks too much.
- (4) So does Carol.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, 65 years old, and have no family. Do you think I am too old to learn to drive an automobile. Some of my friends laughed at me when I mentioned learning to drive at my age.

If I could drive I wouldn't have to wait for friends to take me shopping and to church and other places I might want to go.

Have any of your readers learned to drive at my age? If you think I'm too old, I'll sell the practically new car I have had in my garage ever since my husband died nearly a year ago. Thank you for any help you can give me.

MINNESOTA WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: There is no age limit for learning to drive, in your state. You will need a learning permit, however. It can be obtained by taking a written test. (Inquire at your Motor Vehicle Department.)

If you obtain the permit, driving lessons are available at the AAA and driver education schools, listed in your phone book. You will then be given a driver's test to determine whether you can become a licensed driver. Sixty-five is NOT old, my dear lady. Not if you have your health and good vision.

Healthy Ohio Steers Gave Boost To Trade With Russia

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An official in the state's Department of Agriculture credits some healthy Ohio steers with doing as much to encourage the recent U.S. agreement to sell surplus grain to Russia as President Nixon's May summit conference at the Kremlin.

"The Soviet minister of agriculture made a tour of Midwestern farm areas to look at our grain and cattle," said Deputy Director M. David Urmston. "I think it was on the Cyrus Eaton ranch near Cleveland. The Russian couldn't speak English, but he knew his grain and his cattle and he liked what he saw."

"This was probably the beginning of the negotiations," he said of the almost finalized $750 million deal.

Urmston said Ohio, already growing more corn, wheat and soybeans than it feeds its people and cattle, will be making sizeable contributions to the national grain surplus to be sold to the Russians over the next three years.

The Russian purchases will be mainly of feed grains for its herds.

But Ohio's involvement in the U.S.-Russia pact extends beyond the state's surplus grain contribution.

Not only does Ohio have the production, says Urmston, but "we have the storage capacity and the shipping and handling facilities at two ports—Huron and Toledo, the largest of the Great Lakes ports."

"Ohio's two big ports make it a direct route through the Great Lakes to the St. Lawrence Seaway and overseas points. Toledo has tremendous terminal facilities. It's much cheaper than handling the grain by rail to sea points for freighter loading."

"Agriculture is Ohio's biggest business," Urmston said, "and the state stands to gain a big share in the Russia deal."

But the state's promotion of its biggest industry doesn't stop with the Russian agreement.

"There are a lot of behind-the-scenes negotiations to get the people overseas to come and look at our products—not only grain, but meat, poultry and eggs," he said.

Bids Are Opened For New Bridge On Ohio River

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Novco Corp. of Vincennes, Ind., submitted the apparent low bid of $4,011,163 Tuesday on steel superstructure construction for a new Ohio River bridge between Chester, W. Va., and East Liverpool, Ohio.

The State Department of Highways received seven bids on the project.

The superstructure contract will be the second awarded on the U.S. 30 bridge. The first was for construction of two river piers, now completed.

The project is being 100 percent federally financed and Federal Highway Administration approval of the bid must be obtained before a contract is awarded.

The most recent trip was made by a group from Japan, the nation's leading customer in farm sales, who came to examine a poultry plant at Lancaster.

"Harry Goldstein, our man in charge of meat and poultry inspections, took them through the plant at the agriculture department's invitation. Then, there was a tour of a ballast egg plant in Zanesville. We encourage these visits, promote them with the help of industry and federal agencies," Urmston said.

Miss Ohio Parade Held

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—The 26 candidates for Miss Ohio joined 67 bands, marching units, color guards and floats in the annual parade viewed by thousands of people in scorching 90-degree weather Tuesday night.

The New London High School won the top band award, while the LA Voya Jettes of Akron were recognized as the top marching unit. Receiving top drum corps honors were the Akron Majorettes and Drum Corps, and for the best color guard unit, the Fremont Militaires.

The showmanship trophy went to the Canton Drum and Bugle Corps.

FAA Says Use Of Force In Skyjackings Justified

WASHINGTON (AP) — Decisions to use force against a hijacker rather than submit to him are carefully weighed in advance, says John H. Shaffer, Federal Aviation Administrator.

The decisions by the air crews in consultation with federal authorities, including the FBI, are balanced against the risks involved before action is taken, he says.

In the case of the two hijackers shot to death aboard their commandeered plane at San Francisco, and the one killed in the attempted hijacking of a 747 at Saigon, the circumstances were carefully weighed and the response was appropriate, Shaffer said in an interview Monday.

"Our strengthened stand against hijacking does not necessarily mean we shot first," he said.

"We are trying to head off killing. None of us is trying to take unnecessary risks when thinking what we will be able to do with minimum loss of life," he added.

Shaffer said those who would castigate the pilot of the 747 for his actions leading to the fatal shooting of the young hijacker at Saigon should consider the alternative of flying a large plane loaded of American military personnel into the North Vietnam capital.

As for the over-all hijack-extortion picture, Shaffer found encouragement in what he called steady improvement of security at airports and among airline personnel generally.

He noted that American Airlines, as an example, has ordered 136 advanced types of magnetometer detection devices so sensitive they react not only to ferrous metals but "can check the fillings in your teeth for gold and silver."

Views On TV-Radio

Editor's Note: During Cynthia Lowry's vacation, the column is being written by invited guests, each of whom was asked to respond to specific questions about some area of television. Here is the report of Jack Lord, for the past four years star of CBS' action series, "Hawaii Five-O," produced and filmed in the islands.

By JACK LORD

Q. Since success inevitably is accompanied by some criticism, what do you say and how do you react to hostile-sounding stories about the show and the star?

A. The first thing I say is, "We're still on the air and well into production for our fifth year." Recently I saw some statistics on the subject of longevity and found, to my amazement and considerable satisfaction, that only five dramatic shows in the history of filmed television on CBS made it to the fifth year. So hostile stories harm.

How do I react? Nobody likes to be the target of another's hostility but I realize that no one gets through this life without enemies. If you take the time to examine motives, it's pretty simple to find the answers in most cases. Usually, it's that four-letter word E-N-V-Y. Then I end up with more pity than resentment toward the mudslinger.

Q. In this year of the hold-down on violence, will there be any basic changes in the straight cops-and-robbers format of the show?

A. Frankly, I've never thought of "Five-O" as a straight cops-and-robbers format. We've tackled doct problems, prostitution, runaway girls, youth in rebellion, corruption in high places, romantic episodes, spy cases, political assassination and even comedy in the two episodes we did with Hume Cronyn.

I think we'll stick to our format, striving for a rainbow of themes and plots so that the mix will be interesting and exciting. And of course we will continue to shoot every foot of film in what is probably the most beautiful location in the world, Hawaii.

Watch out, Jack, you're making people envious and you know what that could bring. So I'll say with a Texas gentleman who wrote this prayer: "Lord, fill my mouth with worthwhile stuff and nudge me when I've said enough." Aloha and Mahalo.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

4 Lessons To Learn

DEAR ABBY: The names are fictitious but I am telling it like it is: My name is Debbie. I have been dating a fellow named John. I mentioned to John that Linda, a good friend of mine, is fantastically well put together. John calls Linda and asks her for date. Linda accepts. She then tells Carol (who is also a friend of mine) about her date with John. Carol tells me. Naturally I am humiliated and angry.

I contend that when John refused Linda, she should have called him immediately saying she and I were good friends and then hung up the phone. Furthermore, Linda shouldn't have told Carol or anyone else about her date with John because it made me look like a fool.

My friends contend that everything worked out for the best and I am lucky to have found out that John was bad news. What is your opinion?

DEBBIE: Your friends are right. But there are several lessons to be learned here:

- (1) Never "mention" to a boy friend that another girl is "fantastically well put together." (He may not be able to resist the chance to "take her apart.")
- (2) If a man is interesting, few girls, out of loyalty to a girl friend, will pass up a chance to date him.
- (3) Your friend Linda talks too much.
- (4) So does Carol.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, 65 years old, and have no family. Do you think I am too old to learn to drive an automobile. Some of my friends laughed at me when I mentioned learning to drive at my age.

If I could drive I wouldn't have to wait for friends to take me shopping and to church and other places I might want to go. Have any of your readers learned to drive at my age? If you think I'm too old, I'll sell the practically new car I have had in my garage ever since my husband died nearly a year ago. Thank you for any help you can give me.

MINNESOTA WIDOW: There is no age limit for learning to drive, in your state. You will need a learning permit, however. It can be obtained by taking a written test. (Inquire at your Motor Vehicle Department.)

If you obtain the permit, driving lessons are available at the AAA and driver education schools, listed in your phone book. You will then be given a driver's test to determine whether you can become a licensed driver. Sixty-five is NOT old, my dear lady. Not if you have your health and good vision.

DEAR ABBY: My husband died nearly two years ago. My family has been wonderful to me. My immediate neighbors were very considerate the day of the funeral. They came with food, etc., but from that day until this I have not heard a word from any of them. (I am not complaining. I kept myself very busy, and didn't brood about my loss.)

Four weeks ago I slipped off and quietly married a very nice gentleman I had known for years. I had intended to invite my neighbors in and introduce him, but I guess I wasn't quick enough because I just got a call from a friend of mine telling me that I had better hurry up and announce my marriage because my neighbors were "talking."

It seems they just found out I had a man living with me and they think we are living in sin. I think it's rather funny. What are your thoughts on this, and what should I do?

LEGALLY MARRIED

DEAR "SINNER": Don't tell them anything. Let them "find out" you're married, just like they found out you had a man living with you.

DEAR ABBY: When an unmarried woman is asked by a rude and insensitive woman, "How come a gal like you isn't married?" tell her to come back with, "How come a gal like you IS married?"

"SAME BOAT" Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L.A. CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Healthy Ohio Steers Gave Boost To Trade With Russia

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An official in the state's Department of Agriculture credits some healthy Ohio steers with doing as much to encourage the recent U.S. agreement to sell surplus grain to Russia as President Nixon's May summit conference at the Kremlin.

"The Soviet minister of agriculture made a tour of Midwestern farm areas to look at our grain and cattle," said Deputy Director M. David Urmston. "I think it was on the Cyrus Eaton ranch near Cleveland. The Russian couldn't speak English, but he knew his grain and his cattle and he liked what he saw."

"This was probably the beginning of the negotiations," he said of the almost finalized $750 million deal.

And Urmston said Ohio, already growing more corn, wheat and soybeans than it feeds its people and cattle, will be making sizeable contributions to the national grain surplus to be sold to the Russians over the next three years.

The Russian purchases will be mainly of feed grains for its herds.

But Ohio's involvement in the U.S.-Russia pact extends beyond the state's surplus grain contribution.

Not only does Ohio have the production, says Urmston, but "we have the storage capacity and the shipping and handling facilities at two ports—Huron and Toledo, the largest of the Great Lakes ports."

"Ohio's two big ports make it a direct route through the Great Lakes to the St. Lawrence Seaway and overseas points. Toledo has tremendous terminal facilities. It's much cheaper than handling the grain by rail to sea points for freighter loading."

"Agriculture is Ohio's biggest business," Urmston said, "and the state stands to gain a big share in the Russia deal."

But the state's promotion of its biggest industry doesn't stop with the Russian agreement.

"There are a lot of behind-the-scenes negotiations to get the people overseas to come and look at our products—not only grain, but meat, poultry and eggs," he said.

The most recent trip was made by a group from Japan, the nation's leading customer in farm sales, who came to examine a poultry plant at Lancaster.

"Harry Goldstein, our man in charge of meat and poultry inspections, took them through the plant at the agriculture department's invitation. Then, there was a tour of a ballast egg plant in Zanesville. We encourage these visits, promote them with the help of industry and federal agencies," Urmston said.

Bids Are Opened For New Bridge On Ohio River

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Neveco Corp. of Vincennes, Ind., submitted the apparent low bid of $4,011,163 Tuesday on steel superstructure construction for a new Ohio River bridge between Chester, W. Va., and East Liverpool, Ohio.

The State Department of Highways received seven bids on the project.

The superstructure contract will be the second awarded on the U.S. 30 bridge. The first was for construction of two river piers, now completed.

The project is being 100 per cent federally financed and Federal Highway Administration approval of the bid must be obtained before a contract is awarded.

Garden Club Has Program On Puerto Rico, Alaska

Circleville Garden Club held its July meeting Friday evening in the meeting room of Pickaway County Historical Society with Mrs. Charles Neff, Mrs. Earl Smith and Miss Wilmae Haacker as hostesses. Rex Haacker was a guest for the evening.

The nominating committee reported the club officers for 1972-73 as: Mrs. John Kelchner, president; Miss Mary Jane Watt, vice president; Miss Ann Wolf, recording secretary; Harry C. Kern, treasurer; Miss Thelma O'Hara, reporting secretary; Mrs. Edward Wolf, librarian and Mrs. Charles Neff, historian.

Miss Dhel Renick reported a place the club believed to be a bog was really a marsh. Floyd Bartley said there were no bogs left in Pickaway County. However he said there are some places in the county where wild flowers are being destroyed and he would like to see these places set aside by the State Department of Conservation in order to preserve them. The club asked Miss Renick to investigate the possibilities of having this done.

Harford Renick announced that a lily show was to be held during the weekend at Kingswood Garden at Mansfield.

Mrs. Donald Watt introduced the speaker for the evening, Mrs. Nelson Hickman, past region 9 director of Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs. She was assisted by her son, Seymour Hickman. The Hickmans are world travelers and they selected pictures from a Puerto Rican trip and one to Alaska for the evening's program.

Mr. Hickman said that he found the best way to really understand people and their problems was to go where they live. In Puerto Rican cities there were very narrow streets crowded with people and cars, buildings that had been constructed by the Spaniards in the 16th century and still in very good condition, beautiful homes of the rich and large slum areas. The countryside, especially the rain forest, was luxuriant and beautiful with trees and other vegetation. There were numerous harbors and coves to use for swimming and other water sports.

In contrast were the scenes from Barrow, Alaska. Only a small number of Eskimos and some government workers live there. Barrow has a hospital, school and research laboratory, all government owned and operated.

Only the tundra grows there and is seen for only a few weeks in the summer. Every piece of wood used in building and most of the food must be shipped there making the prices very high.

Snowmobiles are used for traveling. The Hickmans visited the famous Columbia Glacier and found the way difficult. At one place a runner of the snowmobile sank in soft snow and it took nine hours before they could loosen it and resume their trip.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting of the club will be Aug. 11th in the home of Harford and Miss Dhel Renick. Members will visit the garden of Mrs. Charles Huston that same evening.

Garden Club Has Program On Puerto Rico, Alaska

Circleville Garden Club held its July meeting Friday evening in the meeting room of Pickaway County Historical Society with Mrs. Charles Neff, Mrs. Earl Smith and Miss Wilma Haacker as hostesses. Rex Haacker was a guest for the evening.

The nominating committee reported the club officers for 1972-73 as: Mrs. John Kelechner, president; Miss Mary Jane Watt, vice president; Miss Ann Wolf, recording secretary; Harry C. Kern, treasurer; Miss Thelma O'Hara, reporting secretary; Mrs. Edward Wolf, librarian and Mrs. Charles Neff, historian.

Miss Del Renick reported a place the club believed to be a bog was really a marsh. Floyd Bartley said there were no bogs left in Pickaway County. However he said there are some places in the county where wild flowers are being destroyed and he would like to see these places set aside by the State Department of Conservation in order to preserve them. The club asked Miss Renick to investigate the possibilities of having this done.

Harford Renick announced that a lily show was to be held during the weekend at Kingswood Garden at Mansfield.

Mrs. Donald Watt introduced the speaker for the evening, Mrs. Nelson Hickman, past region 9 director of Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs. She was assisted by her son, Seymour Hickman. The Hickmans are world travelers and they selected pictures from a Puerto Rican trip and one to Alaska for the evening's program.

Mr. Hickman said that he found the best way to really understand people and their problems was to go where they live. In Puerto Rican cities there were very narrow streets crowded with people and cars, buildings that had been constructed by the Spaniards in the 16th century and still in very good condition, beautiful homes of the rich and large slum areas. The countryside, especially the rain forest, was luxuriant and beautiful with trees and other vegetation. There were numerous harbors and coves to use for swimming and other water sports.

In contrast were the scenes from Barrow, Alaska. Only a small number of Eskimos and some government workers live there. Barrow has a hospital, school and research laboratory, all government owned and operated.

Only the tundra grows there and is seen for only a few weeks in the summer. Every piece of wood used in building and most of the food must be shipped there making the prices very high.

Snowmobiles are used for traveling. The Hickmans visited the famous Columbia Glacier and found the way difficult. At one place a runner of the snowmobile sank in soft snow and it took nine hours before they could loosen it and resume their trip.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting of the club will be Aug. 11th in the home of Harford and Miss Del Renick. Members will visit the garden of Mrs. Charles Huston that same evening.

TV District Plans Special Tax Vote

A special election Sept. 12 has been requested by the Teays Valley Board of Education to seek an additional five mill tax levy for the local school district. The Board of Education voted unanimously June 26 to seek the special election. A similar move was rejected by district voters in May. In a letter to the County Board of Elections, the Education Board noted that revenue was insufficient to operate the district. The proposed five mill levy will meet current operating expenses. It would bring in 50 cents per year for each $100 of property valuation for a continuing period of time and would be in addition to the general property tax. Board members Everett Beers, William Hinkle, Janet Black, and Jack Warner concurred on the proposed tax. Harold Peters was absent.

Plan Training Of LSH Employees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 28 Lima State Hospital attendants reinstated to their jobs Tuesday will receive training on new policies and operations designed to ensure that patients are properly treated, officials said. The 28, and three former employees, were indicted last November on charges ranging from aggravated assault to sodomy by a special state grand jury that investigated alleged patient abuse at the hospital for the criminally insane. Under an agreement reached in negotiations between Atty. Gen. William Brown, lawyers for the 28, the State Employees Union and the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction: —All 28 will be reinstated to their jobs and receive back pay totaling $150,000. —Twenty-six of them would plead guilty to a reduced charge of assault. —Two others, William Huff and James Wannemacher, already cleared of criminal charges, would not have to plead guilty to assault. —Charges would be dropped against three others who already had resigned at the time of the indictments. The agreement broke a legal deadlock over disposition of the cases that had involved several courts, including the Ohio Supreme Court. "I would assume that the gnawing realization that the cases against the employees were weak finally gnawed its way through the bone of resistance of the hardheads up there," declared Herschel Sigall, chief of the State Employees Union. Atty. Gen. William Brown expressed a hope that "we can now close the book on this matter and look forward to humane and just treatment for those patients at Lima State Hospital and all state institutions." William Davis, an assistant director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, said the 28 reinstated employees will receive "intensive training" on handling mentally disturbed patients. He said the 28 will be assigned to wards away from patients who testified before the grand jury. Davis noted a number of new rules have been put into effect at the hospital the past eight months. Professional staffers, including therapists and social workers, have been deployed in wards to reduce the possibility of patient abuse, he said. And, he added, at least two attendants always will be on duty in any given location. Davis said the total staff has been increased by 51 employees, not counting the 28 reinstated workers, while the patient population has been reduced from 1,295 to 1,010. "We simply are not going to tolerate any patient abuse," Davis said. "It's our responsibility now to see that there isn't any."

The victim, Rodney Adams, died later at Provident Hospital. He was found in the back yard of Roy E. Tucker by his sister, Debbie Adams, 13. Tucker said the wire connected the filter on his swimming pool and he had unplugged it in the morning before going to work. The cord was plugged in again when the body was found. Tucker said someone had pushed a piece of unshielded copper wire into the socket.

Hear Dare To Be Great Advocate

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—An adverse witness called by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) took the stand Tuesday during the second day of a hearing on a suit charging Dare To Be Great, Inc., with securities act violations. Cleo Wayne Hopper of Orlando, Fla., described the course materials and costs at five levels of program involvement. Hopper is vice president of the Academe for Applied Motivation, the major research division of Glenn W. Turner, Inc., Dare To Be Great's parent company. The suit is the first filed by the SEC against the multi-million dollar Turner combine, which operates throughout the country from headquarters in Orlando. Several states and individuals have begun legal action against the firm, charging fraud, misrepresentation, false promotion and other wrongdoing. The hearing, expected to last through the week, is being held in U.S. District Court.

Speed Tax Refunds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Tax Commissioner Robert Kosydar says 25 employees have been transferred from other duties to work on speeding up sales tax refunds to Ohioans who bought new cars and trucks between Aug. 15 and Dec. 10, 1971. Kosydar said some 3,700 requests for refunds have been received since January and some $600,000 has been certified to the state auditor for payment. The refunds results from action by Congress to rescind the excise tax on cars and trucks. They reflect the sales tax paid on excise tax by Ohioans who made purchases between the time President Nixon ordered the excise tax rescinded and Congress approved it. Kosydar said individuals must go to the dealer with proof of his excise tax refund and ask the dealer to file an application on his behalf.

Kroger Starts Price-Scanning Checkout System

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Kroger Co. has unveiled what it calls the first electronic checkout system for supermarkets in its Kenwood Mall store. The system, developed by Radio Corporation of America, consists of a scanner that reads a bull's-eye symbol placed on each of the store's 10,000 items as they go through the checkout counter. The scanner flashes a code number for each item to a computer which computes the price, tax and trading stamp information to be printed on the sales slip. Prices are flashed on an electronic screen for the benefit of the customers. Officials say the system reduces the time in the checkout line. Milford Council OKs Income Tax
MILFORD, Ohio (AP)—A .7 per cent earnings tax will bring in $77,000 the first year of collections, according to Mayor Carl Keitzman. City Council approved the ordinance Monday night. Collections will begin Aug. 1 in the city of 15,000.

Chet Atkins Wants To Be Great Guitarist

By NANCY SHIPLEY
Associated Press Writer
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Chet Atkins, "Mr. Guitar" to most of the world, figures "the one talent I have is the ability to see talent in others." "But," he mused, "I don't know if that's talent — most anybody can do that." Actually, he said, he's still pursuing a boyhood ambition: "I would love to master the guitar." Those strong, gently curving hands have mastered the instrument and Atkins has countess awards and honors to prove it. "But, after 30 years as an artist, his conversation keeps returning to what he really would like — "to be a great guitarist." "You leave a guitar alone for three days and it doesn't know you when you pick it up," he says. "It's just a constant battle getting acquainted with it and staying acquainted." "I want to be known as a guitar player," the taciturn star says, "because the guitar has brought me everything I've ever had and I don't want to ever neglect it." "It's my security blanket," he laughed. Chet Atkins sees Chet Atkins as a "mediocre guitarist... and an introspective person." "A lot of times, I would really like to see myself as other people see me," he said while absent-mindedly toying with a rubber band during an interview shortly after his 45th birthday. "I wonder if I'm doing the right thing," he ponders aloud. "I try to see into me and see what my motivations are and what they should be, but it's very tough to do... I don't see myself very well."

"I just try to express myself as best I know how in my music and do what I feel instinctively is right." Sitting in the massive green velvet chair, his slightly stooped, tall, wiry frame makes him the picture of a man at peace. Atkins, who heads RCA Victor's operations in Nashville, tries not to let his job get to him. And he says the one thing that has changed during the past year — other than his new long hairstyle — is his newly found ability to delegate authority and let someone else do some of the time-consuming things he has been doing. If things get too tense, he heads out to the golf course or goes home — the one place he relaxes — and secludes himself in a small studio with one of 23 guitars he keeps handy.

Like many men, Atkins falls asleep almost every night in front of the television. But he says he falls asleep with a guitar in his hands. What does he consider his greatest achievement? He paused, then said he's proud of a lot of things: His annual festival for young guitarists; his guitar teaching course across the nation, and his 25-year association with RCA. He has been an executive with the company for 16 years. "I've got a right to be proud of that because I got fired from every job I had before RCA," he said. Between the ages of 18 and 22, he was "pretty green" and had what he called "personality problems" with other musicians with whom he worked. "I could get a job anywhere (as an artist), but I just couldn't keep it." Atkins produces records "just for fun." He has produced an untold number of gold records for other artists, but never one for himself. "I'm sure my albums have probably sold enough to get a gold record," he said, "but I've never checked into it. I just sell enough to keep going, you know." He says he rarely ever goes back to Luttrell, the little East Tennessee town where he was born, "because it's kind of depressing."

Even with symphonies such as in Boston, Dallas, Houston, Seattle, Atlanta and New Orleans, he plays country music and with an orchestral background, he says, "it works out well." "Sometimes I play well — I think I play well and other times I don't play worth a damn," he says. "When that happens I just realize how lucky I am that I'm not a pro golfer — they only get paid when they play well."

Gilligan Announces 5-Point Ohio Insurance Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan announced Tuesday a five-point program he said will intensify Ohio's crackdown on deceptive insurance companies. Since the crackdown was announced last May, he said, "we've received hundreds of complaints from consumers about deceptive selling practices... we're going to get money back for a lot of people." Gilligan and Insurance Director Kenneth E. DeShetler called a news conference to announce what the governor called "to our best knowledge, the strongest and most elaborate in the country." Ohio's program caught national attention in May when it banned insurance coverage widely advertised in the news media by radio-television personality Art Linkletter. Gilligan said, "We've put an end to the misleading ads featuring Art Linkletter. We've stopped the misleading advertising by such companies as Union Fidelity Life and National Home Life, and they won't be back until they comply with Ohio's new standards."

Gilligan and DeShetler announced the following new program: —A 24-hour-a-day "hot line" to the Department of Insurance in Columbus. The line will be toll free and may be used by all Ohioans to obtain information and register complaints. The line will be manned by an answering service after 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. business hours. The number is 1-800-282-7623. —A series of "hard hitting" brochures designed to help people understand insurance, avoid deceptive claims and get the most protection for their money. —Two tough new rules to eliminate deceptive insurance advertising and sales. The proposed rules would set stronger guidelines for the solicitation of life insurance and annuity contracts and set guidelines for the advertising of sickness and accident insurance to eliminate misleading advertising.

Bond Issue For Hamilton County Set

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County Commissioners have started machinery to use the November ballot for seeking approval of a $44 million bond issue for construction of new corrections and court facilities and county jail remodeling. Commissioner Robert Rickman disclosed Monday that County Administrator R. A. Anderson is preparing necessary papers for submitting the issue to county voters. "We don't feel we can hold off any longer," Rickman said, referring to the question of whether the city will put a transit bond issue on the ballot in November. The county bond issue will be submitted in three parts, Rickman said. The first will seek approval for a new adult corrections center and a new criminal classification center to replace the antiquated Cincinnati Workhouse; and also for remodeling of the county jail which was built in 1917 to house about 150 prisoners. Nearly 290 are lodged there now. The second portion of the bond issue will request approval for new facilities to replace the existing county juvenile court and detention location. The third will ask approval for conversion and modernization of the county courthouse to change existing Municipal Court facilities into common Pleas Court facilities. Two new suburban court buildings for Municipal Court hearings would be also erected. Rickman estimated cost of the total package at 8 cents per $1,000 of property valuation.

Vote Machine Suit Filed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted Brown has asked the attorney general's office to enter him as a defendant along with the Hardin County Board of Commissioners and Auditor in a taxpayers suit alleging that voting machines are unconstitutional. Brown said he asked to become a party in the matter because "an adverse decision could result in the loss of hundreds of millions of dollars that have been invested in this type of equipment which would become obsolete." The suit charges that voting machines are unconstitutional because they "deprive non-partisan candidates of fair and equitable elections." The section of the constitution cited requires rotation of names of candidates for an office on an equal number of ballots so that each candidate's name appears first in the column the same number of times.

Church Group Enters Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—"We're kind of out of our league," admits the ecumenical leader of a church group trying to solve the 14-week General Motors Assembly Division plant strike, "but we're interested in people." Mrs. Opal Miller, president of Norwood Ecumenical Witnesses (NEW), went to both GMAD and the United Auto Workers with a suggestion that NEW could provide a professional mediator to resolve the issues. A private meeting was held last week by NEW, which represents the YMCA, YWCA, nine churches and several United Appeal agencies and representatives of the company and the union. The latter two met separately with the NEW members.

Plan Training Of LSH Employees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 28 Lima State Hospital attendants reinstated to their jobs Tuesday will receive training on new policies and operations designed to ensure that patients are properly treated, officials said.

The 28, and three former employees, were indicted last November on charges ranging from aggravated assault to sodomy by a special state grand jury that investigated alleged patient abuse at the hospital for the criminally insane.

Under an agreement reached in negotiations between Atty. Gen. William Brown, lawyers for the 28, the State Employees Union and the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction:

—All 28 will be reinstated to their jobs and receive back pay totaling $150,000.

—Twenty-six of them would plead guilty to a reduced charge of assault.

—Two others, William Huff and James Wannemacher, already cleared of criminal charges, would not have to plead guilty to assault.

—Charges would be dropped against three others who already had resigned at the time of the indictments.

The agreement broke a legal deadlock over disposition of the cases that had involved several courts, including the Ohio Supreme Court.

"I would assume that the gnawing realization that the cases against the employees were weak finally gnawed its way through the bone of resistance of the hardheads up there," declared Herschel Sigall, chief of the State Employees Union.

Atty. Gen. William Brown expressed a hope that "we can now close the book on this matter and look forward to humane and just treatment for those patients at Lima State Hospital and all state institutions."

William Davis, an assistant director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, said the 28 reinstated employees will receive "intensive training" on handling mentally disturbed patients.

He said the 28 will be assigned to wards away from patients who testified before the grand jury.

Davis noted a number of new rules have been put into effect at the hospital the past eight months.

Professional staffers, including therapists and social workers, have been deployed in wards to reduce the possibility of patient abuse, he said.

And, he added, at least two attendants always will be on duty in any given location.

Davis said the total staff has been increased by 51 employees, not counting the 28 reinstated workers, while the patient population has been reduced from 1,295 to 1,010.

"We simply are not going to tolerate any patient abuse," Davis said. "It's our responsibility now to see that there isn't any."

Electrocution Of Boy Probed

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County Police today continued their investigation of the apparent electrocution of a 6-year-old suburban Groesbeck boy, found dead in a neighbor's yard near a fence and an electrical cord.

The victim, Rodney Adams, died later at Provident Hospital. He was found in the back yard of Roy E. Tucker by his sister, Debbie Adams, 13.

Tucker said the wire connected the filter on his swimming pool and he had unplugged it in the morning before going to work. The cord was plugged in again when the body was found. Tucker said someone had pushed a piece of unshielded copper wire into the socket.

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Lorain County's 130 union painters, represented by Local 240 of International Brotherhood of Men, went on strike Tuesday.

Warm and humid summer weather continues over the state with high temperatures reaching near the 90 mark again today.

Temperatures not quite as high as today are expected on Thursday. Due to increased shower activity the humidity, however, will increase and the discomfort index will continue high.

TV District Plans Special Tax Vote

A special election Sept. 12 has been requested by the Teays Valley Board of Education to seek an additional five mill tax levy for the local school district.

The Board of Education voted unanimously June 26 to seek the special election. A similar move was rejected by district voters in May.

In a letter to the County Board of Elections, the Education Board noted that revenue was insufficient to operate the district.

The proposed five mill levy will meet current operating expenses.

It would bring in 50 cents per year for each $100 of property valuation for a continuing period of time and would be in addition to the general property tax.

Board members Everett Beers, William Hinkle, Janet Black, and Jack Warner concurred on the proposed tax. Harold Peters was absent.

Hear Dare To Be Great Advocate

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—An adverse witness called by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) took the stand Tuesday during the second day of a hearing on a suit charging Dare To Be Great, Inc., with security act violations.

Cleo Wayne Hopper of Orlando, Fla., described the course materials and costs at five levels of program involvement.

Hopper is vice president of the Academe for Applied Motivation, the major research division of Glenn W. Turner, Inc., Dare To Be Great's parent company.

The suit is the first filed by the SEC against the multi-million dollar Turner combine, which operates throughout the country from headquarters in Orlando.

Several states and individuals have begun legal action against the firm, charging fraud, misrepresentation, false promotion and other wrongdoing.

The hearing, expected to last through the week, is being held in U.S. District Court.

Speed Tax Refunds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Tax Commissioner Robert Kosydar says 25 employees have been transferred from other duties to work on speeding up sales tax refunds to Ohioans who bought new cars and trucks between Aug. 15 and Dec. 10, 1971.

Kosydar said some 3,700 requests for refunds have been received since January and some $600,000 has been certified to the state auditor for payment.

The refunds result from action by Congress to rescind the excise tax on cars and trucks. They reflect the sales tax paid on excise tax by Ohioans who made purchases between the time President Nixon ordered the excise tax rescinded and Congress approved it.

Kosydar said individuals must go to the dealer with proof of his excise tax refund and ask the dealer to file an application on his behalf.

Kroger Starts Price-Scanning Checkout System

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Kroger Co. has unveiled what it calls the first electronic checkout system for supermarkets in its Kenwood Mall store.

The system, developed by Radio Corporation of America, consists of a scanner that reads a bull's-eye symbol placed on each of the store's 10,000 items as they go through the checkout counter.

The scanner flashes a code number for each item to a computer which computes the price, tax and trading stamp information to be printed on the sales slip.

Prices are flashed on an electronic screen for the benefit of the customers. Officials say the system reduces the time in the checkout line.

Milford Council OKs Income Tax

MILFORD, Ohio (AP)—A .7 per cent earnings tax will bring in $77,000 the first year of collections, according to Mayor Carl Keitzman.

City Council approved the ordinance Monday night. Collections will begin Aug. 1 in the city of 15,000.

Chet Atkins Wants To Be Great Guitarist

By NANCY SHIPLEY
Associated Press Writer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Chet Atkins, "Mr. Guitar" to most of the world, figures "the one talent I have is the ability to see talent in others."

"But," he mused, "I don't know if that's talent — most anybody can do that." Actually, he said, he's still pursuing a boyhood ambition: "I would love to master the guitar."

Those strong, gently curving hands have mastered the instrument and Atkins has countless awards and honors to prove it. "But, after 30 years as an artist, his conversation keeps returning to what he really would like — "to be a great guitarist."

"You leave a guitar alone for three days and it doesn't know you when you pick it up," he says. "It's just a constant battle getting acquainted with it and staying acquainted."

"I want to be known as a guitar player," the taciturn star says, "because the guitar has brought me everything I've ever had and I don't want to ever neglect it."

"It's my security blanket," he laughed.

Chet Atkins sees Chet Atkins as a "mediocre guitarist ... and an introspective person."

"A lot of times, I would really like to see myself as other people see me," he said while absent-mindedly toying with a rubber band during an interview shortly after his 45th birthday.

"I wonder if I'm doing the right thing," he ponders aloud. "I try to see into me and see what my motivations are and what they should be, but it's very tough to do ... I don't see myself very well."

"I just try to express myself as best I know how in my music and do what I feel instinctively is right."

Sitting in the massive green velvet chair, his slightly stooped, tall, wiry frame makes him the picture of a man at peace.

Atkins, who heads RCA Victor's operations in Nashville, tries not to let his job get to him. And he says the one thing that has changed during the past year — other than his new long hairstyle — is his newly found ability to delegate authority and let someone else do some of the time-consuming things he has been doing.

If things get too tense, he heads out to the golf course or goes home — the one place he relaxes — and secludes himself in a small studio with one of 23 guitars he keeps handy.

Like many men, Atkins falls asleep almost every night in front of the television. But he says he falls asleep with a guitar in his hands.

What does he consider his greatest achievement? He paused, then said he's proud of a lot of things: His annual festival for young guitarists; his guitar teaching course across the nation, and his 25-year association with RCA. He has been an executive with the company for 16 years.

"I've got a right to be proud of that because I got fired from every job I had before RCA," he said.

Between the ages of 18 and 22, he was "pretty green" and had what he called "personality problems" with other musicians with whom he worked.

"I could get a job anywhere (as an artist), but I just couldn't keep it."

Atkins produces records "just for fun." He has produced an untold number of gold records for other artists, but never one for himself.

"I'm sure my albums have probably sold enough to get a gold record," he said, "but I've never checked into it. I just sell enough to keep going, you know."

He says he rarely ever goes back to Luttrell, the little East Tennessee town where he was born, "because it's kind of depressing."

"It's hard to go back home—all those memories come back to you ... I was so poor when I was there ... hungry and poor in every way ..." and his voice trails off.

So sensitive as a boy that music made him cry, Atkins admits to being a bit partial when it comes to public appearances these days.

"I enjoy performing with symphonies more than anything else, I guess. I think because the audiences are more sincere in their applause and they seem to appreciate all kinds of music."

Even with symphonies such as in Boston, Dallas, Houston, Seattle, Atlanta and New Orleans, he plays country music and with an orchestral background, he says, "it works out well."

"Sometimes I play well — I think I play well and other times I don't play worth a damn," he says. "When that happens I just realize how lucky I am that I'm not a pro golfer — they only get paid when they play well."

Gilligan Announces 5-Point Ohio Insurance Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan announced Tuesday a five-point program he said will intensify Ohio's crackdown on deceptive insurance companies.

Since the crackdown was announced last May, he said, "we've received hundreds of complaints from consumers about deceptive selling practices ... we're going to get money back for a lot of people."

Gilligan and Insurance Director Kenneth E. DeShetler called a news conference to announce what the governor called "to our best knowledge, the strongest and most elaborate in the country."

Ohio's program caught national attention in May when it banned insurance coverage widely advertised in the news media by radio-television personality Art Linkletter.

Gilligan said, "We've put an end to the misleading ads featuring Art Linkletter. We've stopped the misleading advertising by such companies as Union Fidelity Life and National Home Life, and they won't be back until they comply with Ohio's new standards."

Bond Issue For Hamilton County Set

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County Commissioners have started machinery to use the November ballot for seeking approval of a $44 million bond issue for construction of new corrections and court facilities and county jail remodeling.

Commissioner Robert Rickman disclosed Monday that County Administrator R. A. Anderson is preparing necessary papers for submitting the issue to county voters.

"We don't feel we can hold off any longer," Rickman said, referring to the question of whether the city will put a transit bond issue on the ballot in November.

The county bond issue will be submitted in three parts, Rickman said.

The first will seek approval for a new adult corrections center and a new criminal classification center to replace the antiquated Cincinnati Workhouse; and also for remodeling of the county jail which was built in 1917 to house about 150 prisoners. Nearly 290 are lodged there now.

The second portion of the bond issue will request approval for new facilities to replace the existing county juvenile court and detention location.

The third will ask approval for conversion and modernization of the county courthouse to change existing Municipal Court facilities into common Pleas Court facilities. Two new suburban court buildings for Municipal Court hearings would be also erected.

Reckman estimated cost of the total package at 8 cents per $1,000 of property valuation.

Church Group Enters Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—"We're kind of out of our league," admits the ecumenical leader of a church group trying to solve the 14-week General Motors Assembly Division plant strike, "but we're interested in people."

Mrs. Opal Miller, president of Norwood Ecumenical Witnesses (NEW), went to both GMAD and the United Auto Workers with a suggestion that NEW could provide a professional mediator to resolve the issues.

A private meeting was held last week by NEW, which represents the YMCA, YWCA nine churches and several United Appeal agencies and representatives of the company and the union. The latter two met separately with the NEW members.

Vote Machine Suit Filed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted Brown has asked the attorney general's office to enter him as a defendant along with the Hardin County Board of Commissioners and Auditor in a taxpayers suit alleging that voting machines are unconstitutional.

Brown said he asked to become a party in the matter because "an adverse decision could result in the loss of hundreds of millions of dollars that have been invested in this type of equipment which would become obsolete."

The suit charges that voting machines are unconstitutional because they "deprive non-partisan candidates of fair and equitable elections." The section of the constitution cited requires rotation of names of candidates for an office on an equal number of ballots so that each candidate's name appears first in the column the same number of times.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency disciplined the three Apollo 15 astronauts today for carrying 400 unauthorized postal covers to the moon and back last July and then turning 100 of them over to an acquaintance in West Germany.

The 100 moon-stamped envelopes later apparently were sold to stamp collectors for $1,500 each, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said.

NASA said after an investigation that astronauts David Scott, Alfred Worden and James Irwin "exercised poor judgment in their action." "Therefore they will be reprimanded and their actions will be given due consideration in their selection for future assignments," the agency said.

Dr. George Low, NASA deputy administrator, commented: "Astronauts are under extreme stress in the months preceding a flight to the moon, and their poor judgment in carrying the unauthorized covers must be considered in this light. "Nonetheless, NASA cannot condone these actions."

McGovern Unstoppable?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. John J. Gilligan said Tuesday Sen. George McGovern now is unstoppable in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination and that he will be "delighted" to support a McGovern ticket.

The Ohio governor, supporter of Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, said it now seems "obvious" that McGovern has the support needed for a first ballot nomination. Gilligan added, "The senator has votes to burn."

The governor referred to the McGovern forces' victory at the opening session of the Democratic National Convention. "They had predicted they had 1,524 solid votes to win the California seating dispute. It turned out that he had something like 1,620. That shows how strong his support is," Gilligan said.

Apollo Crew Disciplined

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency disciplined the three Apollo 15 astronauts today for carrying 400 unauthorized postal covers to the moon and back last July and then turning 100 of them over to an acquaintance in West Germany.

The 100 moon-stamped envelopes later apparently were sold to stamp collectors for $1,500 each, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said.

NASA said after an investigation that astronauts David Scott, Alfred Worden and James Irwin "exercised poor judgment in their action."

"Therefore they will be reprimanded and their actions will be given due consideration in their selection for future assignments," the agency said.

Dr. George Low, NASA deputy administrator, commented: "Astronauts are under extreme stress in the months preceding a flight to the moon, and their poor judgment in carrying the unauthorized covers must be considered in this light. "Nonetheless, NASA cannot condone these actions."

McGovern Unstoppable?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. John J. Gilligan said Tuesday Sen. George McGovern now is unstoppable in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination and that he will be "delighted" to support a McGovern ticket.

The Ohio governor, supporter of Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, said it now seems "obvious" that McGovern has the support needed for a first ballot nomination. Gilligan added, "The senator has votes to burn."

The governor referred to the McGovern forces' victory at the opening session of the Democratic National Convention. "They had predicted they had 1,524 solid votes to win the California seating dispute. It turned out that he had something like 1,620. That shows how strong his support is," Gilligan said.

Miami Police See No Repeat Of Chicago Convention

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
MIAMI BEACH — Despite the fact that Al Capone once lived here, Miami Beach is a police officer's dream of security. Separated from the mainland by wide Biscayne Bay, the city is reached by six causeways, five of them of quite respectable length. (It costs a couple of bucks in a taxi to cross one.) If the city had chosen to deny the various protest groups — the Reverend Ralph Abernathy's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the National Coalition of Gay Organizations (here to stage a "kiss-in"), the Pot People's Party, the Plain People's Party (Dr. Spock's presidential vehicle), the Yippies, the Zippiess, the National Tenants Organization, the Mayday Tribe, and the Welfare Reformers — the right to squat in Flamingo Park, the difficulty of staging marches on the Democratic Convention would have been insuperable. Mobs on foot would have taken hours to filter over those causeways.

The local city fathers and their police, however, decided quite early that 1972 was not 1968. Since the idea of the McGovern rules was to get everybody and his brother represented inside the convention hall, there seemed to be little reason to fear the so-called non-delegates on the outside. If there were any likely prospect of violence, surely it would happen inside the convention walls, presumably after a McGovern turn-down.

As of the weekend, the complaisance of the Miami Beach police has been brilliantly justified. Compared with Chicago's Lakefront Park System in 1968, Flamingo Park is a dud.

On the pre-convention weekend in Chicago, the Yippies and the Students for a Democratic Society were under what amounted to guerrilla military discipline. Their drill sergeants were busy teaching noisy groups how best to provoke the "Pigs," how to link arms in snake formations to prevent police break-throughs, and how to punch innocent dupes forward to receive the first clubbings. There has been none of that pre-convention preparation for street "happenings" in Miami Beach.

No doubt more Yippies, and more of the Reverend Abernathy's blacks and poor people, will show up for the balloting. But as of the week-end the small groups in Flamingo Park were as lackadaisical as the humid weather. The kids under the banyan tree, some of them doped lethargic, smoked their pot in silence, hardly listening to the cries of an agitated leader who stormed in to complain that, of forty dollars collected for the week, twenty-five dollars had been ripped off by somebody who must have been reading Abbie Hoffman's "Steal This Book." The Zippiess, secessionists from the Yippies, explained that they were the real Youth International Party. Jerry Rubin and Abbie Hoffman had let them down by becoming affluent on their books and lectures, and Hoffman had been spending too much time goofing off in the Virgin Islands like any other bourgeois tourist. The Zippiess were tired of the Rubin-Hoffman "Cult of Personality."

Meanwhile, the Jesus freaks, with an ethnic subgroup of "Jews For Jesus," complicated matters by taking the name of the Lord more seriously than in vain. A blond youth ran up and down for an hour as I watched him, singing about the "Last Convention" that would be "held in space in the last domain," with Jesus presumably recognizing only the faithful. Save for one matronly woman who wanted to feed him something to sustain his incredible energy, nobody paid any attention to the singer. And nobody got up from the pot session to help Abernathy's men stake out their tent city.

Maybe the lethargic scene in Flamingo Park will pick up once the convention hall itself has begun to rock with quarrels over credentials. But, as of the weekend, this was definitely no repeat of Chicago, 1968.

Storms Hit North-Central U.S. States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Severe thunderstorms, heavy rain and hail whipped the north-central states today, spreading tornado and flash-flood warnings to parts of Minnesota, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Iowa.

Almost 5 inches of rain fell on Meire Grove, Minn., during a two-hour period, while hail stones the size of golf balls covered the ground near Brower, Minn.

Local cloudbursts caused streams and creeks to rise in parts of Nebraska and Iowa, while the Sauk River in Stearns County, Minn., climbed near flood stage.

A disturbance off the coast of North Carolina brought rain to eastern portions of Virginia and the Carolinas.

Rainfall in other parts of the country was confined mainly to showers in the Pacific Northwest and scattered showers in the southern and central Plains.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 48 at Butte, Mont., to 98 at Blythe, Calif.

Watermelon Story Proves Falsehood

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Police say a report that a 29-year-old man was seriously injured Sunday after being struck by a watermelon dropped from a second story window was false and apparently the result of a fictitious police report filed by a prankster.

The account given by police Sunday said O.C. Henry suffered multiple injuries after the 51-pound melon was dropped on him following an argument with his girlfriend, Ofena Jonts.

Police Commander Pete Hagan said Monday the report was checked out and "there isn't a seed of truth to it."

There were 118 prisoners committed to the jail, 99 adult male, nine adult female, seven juvenile male and three juvenile female.

The Department committed 47 of these to the jail, the Highway Patrol committed 42 persons, and Circleville Police committed 25.

The prisoners were served 2,462 meals during the month.

In the communications section of the Sheriff's Department, 4,133 telephone calls were received during June and 3,065 radio messages were sent and received.

There were 114 teletype messages sent and 73 received. There were 381 calls requesting Sheriff's units.

The Department received 10 fire calls for the Harrison Twp. Fire Department and seven for the Pickaway Twp. Fire Department.

Braves, Expos Score Wins In NL Play

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Patience is a virtue to be admired. Everything comes, it has been said, to those who wait. The Montreal Expos and Atlanta Braves found out that the adage applies to baseball, too.

The Expos and Braves both struggled into extra innings Tuesday night and were rewarded with National League victories. Montreal trimmed San Diego 6-5 in 12 innings and Atlanta won 15 innings to beat St. Louis 5-4.

In other National League action, San Francisco defeated New York 6-1, Philadelphia tripped Los Angeles 4-1, Cincinnati shut out Pittsburgh 5-0 and Houston split a doubleheader with Chicago, winning the opener 6-5 but dropping the nightcap 9-5.

The Expos overcame home runs by Derrell Thomas and Clarence Gaston which staked San Diego to an early 5-3 lead. Ken Singleton had homered for Montreal.

The Expos tied it in the seventh on Tim Lincecum's two-run single.

It was still tied in the 12th when Singleton opened with a single. Bob Bailey was credited with a hit when his grounder struck Singleton, retiring the runner. But Clyde Mashore followed with a double, scoring Bailey from first with the deciding run.

Hank Aaron pooled his 658th career homer for Atlanta but the Cardinals caught the Braves in the seventh inning, tying the score on Lou Brock's fourth hit, second stolen base, a throwing error by Earl Williams and Ted Sizemore's sacrifice fly.

They shouldn't have bothered.

The teams battled into the 15th when Atlanta finally pushed across the winning run with the help of two wild pitches by reliever Lowell Palmer.

Gil Garrido opened with a single, moved up on a wild pitch and long fly before scoring on Palmer's second wild pitch.

The Mets, who are losing ball players almost as frequently as ball games, dropped another of each. Outfielder John Milner was carried off the field after a collision with shortstop Bud Harrelson in the third inning of New York's game against San Francisco.

Milner suffered a neck injury and Chris Speier's pop-up fell for a double, scoring two runs for the Giants. The Mets, already missing three regular outfielders because of injuries, replaced Milner with catcher Duffy Dyer and in the seventh Speier hit another pop fly which Dyer let drop for an error and two more Giants' runs.

Ron Bryant pitched a two-hitter for the victory.

Steve Carlton tossed a five-hitter for his seventh straight victory, pitching Philadelphia past Los Angeles. Carlton struck out eight, running his major league lead in that department to 182.

Don Money drove in three runs for the Phillies with a bases-loaded double.

New Manager Paul Owens pointed to a second inning stolen base by Willie Montanez that set up a four-run rally as the key play of the game. It was the first steal of the year for the speedy Montanez.

Jack Billingham hurled a seven-hitter and the Reds won the clash of division leaders with Pittsburgh. Johnny Bench had four hits, driving in three runs with two singles, a double and his 22nd home run of the year. The RBIs upped his major league lead in that department to 66.

"That was really sweet," said the Reds' slugging catcher. "The 4-for-4 days are really great."

Sure they are, but what about the 8-for-8 days? That's what Chicago's Billy Williams enjoyed against Houston in the Cubs' doubleheader split.

Williams homered in each game and also had a double and five singles. The streak was interrupted only by a sacrifice fly which does not count as a time at bat. Rick Monday also had two homers and Joe Pepitone one for the Cubs.

"Eight-for-eight?" said Williams. "I've never had 8-for-8 even in Little League."

The Astros overcame Williams in the opener, with Jim Wynn's two-run homer capping a four-run seventh inning rally,

Billingham Reds Snuff Out Pirates Victory Hopes, 5-0

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Reds pitching coach Larry Sheppard would like to develop a mean streak in Jack Billingham.

The tall righthander, who came to the Reds in trade from the Houston Astros, shut out the hard-hitting Pittsburgh Pirates 5-0 Tuesday night.

The Pirates knicked him for seven hits but tough defense in the Cincinnati infield wiped out three threats with double plays.

Sheppard feels that Billingham's record has been deceptive up to now with the western division leaders of the National League. He had a high 3.94 earned average and his record is now 5-9 in 15 starts.

However, Billingham has three complete games to his credit, two of the shutouts and he combined with reliever Clay Carroll for a third.

"Jack made 102 pitches tonight," noted Sheppard Tuesday night. "He was outstanding — definitely his best game. His control was great and seemed to get stronger as he went along."

"The trouble with him is he doesn't believe he's as good as he really can be," Sheppard said.

"Perhaps he doesn't have that meanness in him that is so necessary for a successful pitcher."

"Before I went out there I only figured on going six innings," said Billingham, "but I gained confidence. My off-speed curve was real good and I was able to move my ball very well."

"Those double plays helped a lot. I always seemed to be in trouble but after all, this was the Pirates."

Johnny Bench was the big gun for Cincinnati with a perfect four-for-four and three runs batted in. His home run, his 22nd, continued to keep him on top in the league and his RBI total of 66 also is tops.

"That was really sweet," Bench said afterward. "The four-for-four days are really great. They threw me a lot of sliders but three of my hits were on fast balls," he last one, the homer, coming off rookie Gene Garber.

Pirates Manager Bill Virdon made no excuses for his eastern division leaders being shut out for the fifth time this season.

"Good pitchers almost always beat good hitters," he said. "Billingham mixed his pitches very well. I've seen him throw harder but tonight he made the good pitch every time he had to."

Bench singled in Bobby Tolan in the first after Tolan had batted Morgan in the third and scored on a sacrifice fly then homered in the eighth to complete the scoring.

Joe Morgan picked up another stolen base to lead the league with 34 in 42 attempts. He also scored two runs to lead with 72 in 76 games.

The Pirates play Cincinnati again today and Thursday.

The New York Jets are scheduled to open their home football season at Shea Stadium against the Miami Dolphins on Oct. 8.

Nicklaus Heavily Favored To Capture British Open

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — Jack Nicklaus went into one of the most vital golf tournaments of his illustrious career today with his mind fixed on winning the British Open title and consciously blocking out thoughts of achieving the Grand Slam.

Britain's legal bookies have made the 32-year-old American an overwhelming favorite to win his third British crown, over Muirfield's windy links beside the Firth of Forth.

After seven practice rounds on the 6,892-yard, par 36-35-71 layout, Nicklaus said: "My game is in reasonable shape. I have pretty much made up my mind what I will do when the chips are down."

CINCINNATI (AP)—In 1968, Coach Paul Brown vowed that his expansion Cincinnati Bengals would grow into a full-fledged title contending team in five years.

"We wanted to be competitive to play every team to the ground in our fifth year," Brown said about the National Football League club which now is five years old. "We feel we can do that this year."

"We don't want to have to sneak up on anybody. We want to use finesse, and not have to gamble. That is our hope."

When Brown spoke of the team's future in 1968, the Bengals finished 3-11, tying a professional football record by winning three games in their first year.

The Bengals improved their record in 1969, then won the NFL's Central Division title in 1970 only to lose to the Baltimore Colts in American Conference playoffs. Baltimore went on to win the Super Bowl.

The Bengals were plagued by injuries in 1971 and dropped to last place in the division. They wound up 4-10, losing several close games.

"I think last year maybe we were a little better than our record," Brown said, but he has also admitted that the club in 1969 probably wasn't as good as the regular season record of 8-6.

The injuries at different times last year sidelined key players such as starting quarterback Virgil Carter and second string quarterback Ken Anderson.

"Carter was hurt in the second game and didn't play for six games," Brown recalled. "You take away the quarterback for any team and you find they get hurt."

With the official opening of training on Friday, Brown said, "We always go to camp thinking we have a chance for a

Miami Police See No Repeat Of Chicago Convention

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

MIAMI BEACH — Despite the fact that Al Capone once lived here, Miami Beach is a police officer's dream of security. Separated from the mainland by wide Biscayne Bay, the city is reached by six causeways, five of them of quite respectable length. (It costs a couple of bucks in a taxi to cross one.) If the city had chosen to deny the various protest groups — the Reverend Ralph Abernathy's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the tribe, and the Welfare Reformers — the right to squat in Flamingo Park, the difficulty of staging marches on the Democratic Convention would have been insuperable. Mobs on foot would have taken hours to filter over those causeways.

National Coalition of Gay Organizations (here to stage a "kiss-in"), the Pot People's Party, the Plain People's Party (D.R. Spock's presidential vehicle), the Yippies, the Zip-

The local city fathers and their police, however, decided quite early that 1972 was not 1968. Since the idea of the McGovern rules was to get everybody and his brother represented inside the convention hall, there seemed to be little reason to fear the so-called non-delegates on the outside. If there were any likely prospect of violence, surely it would happen inside the convention walls, presumably after a McGovern turn-down.

As of the weekend, the complaisance of the Miami Beach police has been brilliantly justified. Compared with Chicago's Lakefront Park System in 1968, Flamingo Park is a dud.

On the pre-convention weekend in Chicago, the Yippies and the Students for a Democratic Society were under what amounted to guerrilla military discipline. Their drill sergeants were busy teaching noisy groups how best to provoke the "Pigs," how to link arms in snaky formations to prevent police break-throughs and how to punch innocent dupes forward to receive the first clubbings. There has been none of that pre-convention preparation for street "happenings" in Miami Beach.

No doubt more Yippies, and more of the Reverend Abernathy's blacks and poor people, will show up for the balloting. But as of the week-end the small groups in Flamingo Park were as lackadaisical as the humid weather. The kids under the banyan tree, some of them doped lethargic, smoked their pot in silence, hardly listening to the cries of an agitated leader who stormed in to complain that, of forty dollars collected for the week, twenty-five dollars had been ripped off by somebody who must have been reading Abbie Hoffman's "Steal This Book." The Yippies, secessionists from the Yippies, explained that they were the real Youth International Party. Jerry Rubin and Abbie Hoffman had let them down by becoming affluent on their books and lectures, and Hoffman had been spending too much time goofing off in the Virgin Islands like any other bourgeois tourist. The Yippies were tired of the Rubin-Hoffman "Cult of Personality."

Meanwhile, the Jesus freaks, with an ethnic subgroup of "Jews For Jesus," complicated matters by taking the name of the Lord more seriously than in vain. A blond youth ran up and down for an hour as I watched him, singing about the "Last Convention" that would be "held in space in the last domain," with Jesus presumably recognizing only the faithful. Save for one matronly woman who wanted to feed him something to sustain his incredible energy, nobody paid any attention to the singer. And nobody got up from the pot session to help Abernathy's men stake out their tent city.

Maybe the lethargic scene in Flamingo Park will pick up once the convention hall itself has begun to rock with quarrels over credentials. But, as of the week-end, this was definitely no repeat of Chicago, 1968.

Storms Hit North-Central U.S. States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Severe thunderstorms, heavy rain and hail whipped the north-central states today, spreading tornado and flash-flood warnings to parts of Minnesota, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Iowa.

Almost 5 inches of rain fell on Meire Grove, Minn., during a two-hour period, while hailstones the size of golf balls covered the ground near Browerville, Minn.

Local cloudbursts caused streams and creeks to rise in parts of Nebraska and Iowa, while the Sauk River in Stearns County, Minn., climbed near flood stage.

A disturbance off the coast of North Carolina brought rain to eastern portions of Virginia and the Carolinas.

Rainfall in other parts of the country was confined mainly to showers in the Pacific Northwest and scattered showers in the southern and central Plains.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 48 at Butte, Mont., to 98 at Blythe, Calif.

Watermelon Story Proves Falsehood

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say a report that a 29-year-old man was seriously injured Sunday after being struck by a watermelon dropped from a second-story window was false and apparently the result of a fictitious police report filed by a prankster.

The account given by police Sunday said O.C. Henry suffered multiple injuries after the 51-pound melon was dropped on him following an argument with his girlfriend, Ofena Jonts.

Police Commander Pete Hagan said Monday the report was checked out and "there isn't a seed of truth to it."

Dale Drake, Offy Chief, Dies At 70

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Dale Drake, who began as a mechanic at the Indianapolis 500 and ended up owning the engine company that dominated America's most famous auto race, is dead of a heart attack.

Drake, owner for the past 26 years of the firm making Offenhauser engines, died at a hospital in nearby Orange Monday night at age 70.

Cars with the four-cylinder engines have on at Indianapolis in all but six years since World War II. Mark Donohue drove one to victory this year.

Drake, a native of Reedley, Calif., worked for his family's valve company after high school, then became a mechanic for race driver Louis Meyer, later his business partner. Meyer won at Indianapolis in 1928, 1933 and 1936.

The car, like most of its competitors, was powered by an engine invented by Harry Miller in the early 1920s and marketed by Fred Offenhauser in the '30s.

Drake went into the engine business with Meyer in 1946, buying out Offenhauser to form the Meyer Drake Engineering Co.

He took control of production by himself in 1965, changing the company's name to Drake Engineering and Sales and the engine's name to the Drake-Offy. His son John is president of the firm.

First, the 21-year-old Bowling Green State University middle distance star will be married this weekend.

Secondly, Wottle has decided he will run both the 800 and 1,500-meter races.

The 101st "championship with prize money totaling about $120,000.

The main focus was on Nicklaus, who needs the British title to complete the third leg of the Grand Slam sweeping the four major pro tournaments. He already has won the Masters and U.S. Open. The British Open and the PGA at Birmingham, Mich., next month would complete the sweep.

On the eve of the British Open, Nicklaus muses: "The Grand Slam only becomes realistic if I win here. So I'm concentrating on that."

Nicklaus planned to sleep late because he was among the late starters.

Defending champion Lee Trevino had a much earlier starting time.

The bookies listed Nicklaus as 9-4 favorite, with Trevino second choice at 6-1 and Gary Player of South Africa third at 12-1.

White Sox Top Tribe, Win 4-3

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Three homers by the Chicago White Sox spelled doom to pitcher Dick Tidrow and the Cleveland Indians Tuesday night in a 4-3 defeat.

Ed Spiezio hit a solo homer to cap a three-run rally in the seventh and provide the winning run.

"Until the seventh inning, Dick was super, just super," catcher Ray Fosse said of Tidrow, now 5-9. "He had the best stuff all year."

Carlos May started the rally with a single and Rick Reichardt then hit his fourth homer to tie the game at 3-3.

Fosse said the pitch Reichardt hit "stayed right out there, straight as an arrow."

"Spiezio's homer was another nothing pitch. It was supposed to be a fast ball. We had been throwing the ball by him all night," Fosse concluded.

"Tidrow didn't lose anything," said Indians Manager Ken Aspromonte. "He just didn't get the ball where he wanted. He made a couple mistakes and they killed him. They hit the same stuff he was throwing past them early."

2 Veterans Fail To Show

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns lost one rookie Tuesday when Charles Jessamy, a running back from Kansas Wesleyan, didn't pass his physical.

The Browns are also working out without two veterans asked to report to camp with the rookies rather than report with the veterans Sunday.

The Browns believe flanker Stan Brown never received the letter inviting him to early camp, but are unsure of what happened to center-guard Chuck Reynolds.

Reynolds was supposed to have left his home in Tulsa, Okla., last Sunday but nothing has been heard from him.

"It's very discouraging," Coach Nick Skorich said of Reynolds. "Here is an athlete who is asked to return after being out of football a year. Then he doesn't show up. I hope there is some good reason."

In time tests Tuesday, Guy Homoly, trying for the second time to make the roster after injuring his knee in an exhibition game last summer, and rookie receiver Ron Lowe were both clocked in 4.6 seconds at 40 yards. Mel Long of Toledo, being tried at linebacker, ran the distance in 4.8 seconds.

Braves, Expos Score Wins In NL Play

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Patience is a virtue to be admired. Everything comes, it has been said, to those who wait. The Montreal Expos and Atlanta Braves found out that the adage applies to baseball, too.

The Expos and Braves both struggled into extra innings Tuesday night and were rewarded with National League victories. Montreal trimmed San Diego 6-5 in 12 innings and Atlanta went 15 innings to beat St. Louis 5-4.

In other National League action, San Francisco defeated New York 6-1, Philadelphia tripped Los Angeles 4-1, Cincinnati shut out Pittsburgh 5-0 and Houston split a doubleheader with Chicago, winning the opener 65 but dropping the nightcap 9-5.

The Expos overcame home runs by Derrell Thomas and Clarence Gaston which staked San Diego to an early 5-3 lead. Ken Singleton had homered for Montreal.

The Expos tied it in the seventh on Tim Lincecum's two-run single.

It was still tied in the 12th when Singleton opened with a single. Bob Bailey was credited with a hit when his grounder struck Singleton, retiring the runner. But Clyde Mashore followed with a double, scoring Bailey from first with the deciding run.

Hank Aaron pooled his 658th career homer for Atlanta but the Cardinals caught the Braves in the seventh inning, tying the score on Lou Brock's fourth hit, second stolen base, a throwing error by Earl Williams and Ted Sizemore's sacrifice fly.

They shouldn't have both-ered.

The teams battled into the 15th when Atlanta finally pushed across the winning run with the help of two wild pitches by reliever Lowell Palmer.

Gil Garrido opened with a single, moved up on a wild pitch and long fly before scoring on Palmer's second wild pitch.

The Mets, who are losing ball players almost as frequently as ball games, dropped another of each. Outfielder John Milner was carried off the field after a collision with shortstop Bud Harrelson in the third inning of New York's game against San Francisco.

Milner suffered a neck injury and Chris Speier's pop-up fell for a double, scoring two runs for the Giants. The Mets, already missing three regular out- fielders because of injuries, re- placed Milner with catcher Duffy Dyer and in the seventh Speier hit another pop fly which Dyer let drop for an error and two more Giants' runs.

Ron Bryant pitched a two-hit-ter for the victory.

Steve Carlton tossed a five hitter for his seventh straight victory, pitching Philadelphia past Los Angeles. Carlton struck out eight, running his major league lead in that de- partment to 182.

Don Money drove in three runs for the Phillies with a bases-loaded double.

New Manager Paul Owens pointed to a second inning sto- len base by Willie Montanez

that set up a four-run rally as the key play of the game. It was the first steal of the year for the speedy Montanez.

Jack Billingham hurled a seven-hitter and the Reds won the clash of division leaders with Pittsburgh. Johnny Bench had four hits, driving in three runs with two singles, a double and his 22nd home run of the year. The RBIs upped his ma- jor league lead in that de- partment to 66.

"That was really sweet," said the Reds' slugging catch- er. "The 4-for-4 days are really great."

Sure they are, but what about the 8-for-8 days? That's what Chicago's Billy Williams en- joyed against Houston in the Cubs' doubleheader split.

Williams homered in each game and also had a double and five singles. The streak was interrupted only by a sac- rifice fly which does not count as a time at bat. Rick Monday also had two homers and Joe Pepitone one for the Cubs.

"Eight-for-eight?" said Wil- liams. "I've never had 8-for-8 even in Little League."

The Astros overcame Wil- liams in the opener, with Jim Yinn's two-run homer capping a four-run seventh inning rally.

Billingham Reds Snuff Out Pirates Victory Hopes, 5-0

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Reds pitching coach Larry Sheppard would like to develop a mean streak in Jack Billingham.

The tall righthander, who came to the Reds in trade from the Houston Astros, shut out the hard-hitting Pittsburgh Pirates 5-0 Tuesday night.

The Pirates knicked him for seven hits but tough defense in the Cincinnati infield wiped out three threats with double plays.

Sheppard feels that Billingham's record has been decep- tive up to now with the western division leaders of the National League. He had a high 3.94 earned average and his record is now 5-9 in 15 starts.

However, Billingham has three complete games to his credit, two of the shutouts and he combined with reliever Clay Carroll for a third.

"Jack made 102 pitches tonight," noted Sheppard Tuesday night. "He was outstanding — definitely his best game. His control was great and seemed to get stronger as he went along."

"The trouble with him is he doesn't believe he's as good as he really can be," Sheppard said.

"Perhaps he doesn't have that meanness in him that is so necessary for a successful pitcher."

"Before I went out there I only figured on going six in- ings," said Billingham, "but I gained confidence. My off-speed curve was real good and I was able to move my ball very well."

"Those double plays helped a lot. I always seemed to be in trouble but after all, this was the Pirates."

John Bench was the big gun for Cincinnati with a perfect four-for-four and three runs batted in. His home run, his 22nd, continued to keep him on top in the league and his RBI total of 66 also is tops.

"That was really sweet," Bench said afterward. "The four-for-four days are really great. They threw me a lot of sliders but three of my hits were on fast balls," he last one, the homer, coming off rookie Gene Garber.

Pirates Manager Bill Virdon made no excuses for his eastern division leaders being shut out for the fifth time this season.

"Good pitchers almost al- ways beat good hitters," he said. "Billingham mixed his pitches very well. I've seen him throw harder but tonight he made the good pitch every time he had to."

Bench singled in Bobby Tolan in the first after Tolan had batted Morgan in. Bench brought Morgan home in the third and scored on a sacrifice fly then homered in the eighth to com- plete the scoring.

Joe Morgan picked up another stolen base to lead the league with 34 in 42 attempts. He also scored two runs to lead with 72 in 76 games.

The Pirates play Cincinnati again today and Thursday.

The New York Jets are scheduled to open their home football season at Shea Stadium against the Miami Dolphins on Oct. 8.

Nicklaus Heavily Favored To Capture British Open

MURFIELD, Scotland (AP) — Jack Nicklaus went into one of the most vital golf tourna- ments of his illustrious career today with his mind fixed on winning the British Open title and consciously blocking out thoughts of achieving the Grand Slam.

Britain's legal bookies have made the 32-year-old American an overwhelming favorite to win his third British crown, over Muirfield's windy links be- side the Firth of Forth.

After seven practice rounds on the 6,892-yard, par 36-35-71 layout, Nicklaus said: "My game is in reasonable shape. I have pretty much made up my mind what I will do when the chips are down."

Bench singled in Bobby Tolan in the first after Tolan had batted Morgan in. Bench brought Morgan home in the third and scored on a sacrifice fly then homered in the eighth to com- plete the scoring.

Joe Morgan picked up another stolen base to lead the league with 34 in 42 attempts. He also scored two runs to lead with 72 in 76 games.

The Pirates play Cincinnati again today and Thursday.

The New York Jets are scheduled to open their home football season at Shea Stadium against the Miami Dolphins on Oct. 8.

Brown Believes Bengals Top Contender This Year

By JOHN CHACE

Associated Press Writer

CINCINNATI (AP)—In 1968, Coach Paul Brown vowed that his expansion Cincinnati Ben- gals would grow into a full- fledged title contending team in five years.

"We wanted to be com- petitive to play every team to the ground in our fifth year," Brown said about the National Football League club which now is five years old. "We feel we can do that this year."

"We don't want to have to sneak up on anybody. We want to use finesse, and not have to gamble. That is our hope."

When Brown spoke of the team's future in 1968, the Ben- gals finished 3-11, tying a pro- fessional football record by winning three games in their first year.

The Bengals improved their record in 1969, then won the NFL's Central Division title in 1970 only to lose to the Balti- more Colts in American Confer- ence playoffs. Baltimore went on to win the Super Bowl.

The Bengals were plagued by injuries in 1971 and dropped to last place in the division. They wound up 4-10, losing several close games.

"I think last year maybe we were a little better than our record," Brown said, but he has also admitted that the club in 1969 probably wasn't as good as the regular season record of 8-6.

The injuries at different times last year sidelined key players such as starting quar- terback Virgil Carter and second string quarterback Ken An- derson.

"Carter was hurt in the sec- ond game and didn't play for six games," Brown recalled. "You take away the quarterback for any team and you find they get hurt."

With the official opening of training on Friday, Brown said, "We always go to camp think- ing we have a chance for a good season. I am optimistic this year."

Brown said he hoped that an additional year's experience for the team and draft selections such as defensive end Sherman White and defensive back Tom- my Casanova could aid the team.

5-Iron Shot To The Green Most Important For Player

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In a National Open, if you have a chance to win and don't do it, you won't get the chance again—and you'll never win it at all," Gary Player says.

"Look at Sam Snead," he continued. "I'd like to argue he's the greatest player who ever lived. And he never won the U.S. Open after he blew his first chance."

And it's for that reason, the little South African said, that a more or less routine five iron shot may be the most impor- tant he's stroked in his career.

"It was in the 1965 U.S. Open at Belle River in St. Louis," Player said. "I had a three stroke lead over Kel Nagle with three holes to play."

"On the 16th, a very long hole, I hit it in a bunker and then three-putted for a double bogey. Nagle was playing ahead of me and I heard a big yell from the gallery. I found out he'd made birdie on the 17th."

"Now, from a three-shot lead, I was back to even. The mo- mentum was going the other way and I was faced with mak- ing par on the last hole to save a tie and force a playoff."

"I drove the fairway and had a five iron to the green. I hit it 18 feet from the pin to make it an easy par. That may be the most important one."

Player went on to beat Nagle in an 18-hole playoff for the title the next day, completing his sweep of all the world's ma- jor championships. He was only the third man to do so.

"I've hit many better shots, but none more important," he said. "It was so important be- cause I was going for the grand slam. And if I'd missed, I may have never gotten another chance."

Pattin, Bosox Bomb A's Win 4-0

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

The "Pattin" story unfolded in dramatic fashion at the Oak- land Coliseum.

Marty Pattin was the hero, firing bullets at the Oakland A's.

Two outs away from a no-hit-ter, the Boston Red Sox pitcher finally surrendered a single to Reggie Jackson before winning the battle 4-0 on a powerhouse one-hitter.

"I guess that's as close as I'll ever come to a no-hitter," said Pattin after Jackson's hit just eluded second baseman Doug Griffin in the ninth inning.

The pitch that Jackson caught was a high fast ball with "something on it," Pattin said he'd throw it again in the same situation.

In Tuesday's other American League contests, the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Kansas City Royals 2-1 in 10 in- ings; the Detroit Tigers pped the Texas Rangers 6-5; the Chicago White Sox trimmed the Cleveland Indians 4-3; the New York Yankees stopped the California Angels 7-3 and the Milwaukee Brewers turned back the Minnesota Twins 5-4.

Using hard sliders and fast- balls as his main weapons, Pat- tin cut down Oakland batters until the A's last stand. Joe Rudi went down for Pattin's seventh strikeout to open the ninth.

Then Jackson spoiled Pattin's no-hitter.

"I guess this is the best game I ever pitched," said Pattin, who received a standing ova- tion from the crowd of 5,539 when he came to bat in the ninth.

Pattin, obtained in a 10-play- er trade from Milwaukee during the off-season, won his fourth straight game and im- proved his record to 6-8 with the near-masterpiece, fashioned on 117 pitches.

Carlton Fisk's 11th homer of the season gave Pattin a 1-0 lead in the second inning. The Red Sox added another in the fourth on hits by Carl Yastr- zemski, Rico Petrocelli, a walk and a forfeit.

Hits by Yastrzemski, Petro- celli and Fisk produced another run in the eighth and Boston added its final run in the ninth when Juan Beiquez tripled and scored on a wild pitch.

Tom Shopay walked with the bases loaded in the 10th in- ings, forcing in the winning run as Baltimore halted a five-game losing streak. Reliever Ken Wright, the Royals' second pitcher of the inning, gave up the game-ending walk after the Orioles had filled the bases on a double by Brooks Robinson and walks to Bobby Grich and Boog Powell.

The Royals had taken a 1-0 lead in the first on singles by Amos Otis, Richie Scheinblum and Lou Piniella. The Orioles tied it in the sixth on pitcher Jim Palmer's run-scoring single. Palmer recorded his 12th victory with a seven-hitter.

Detroit kept its tenuous one- game lead over Baltimore in the East by beating Texas on Mickey Stanley's tie-breaking home run in the sixth inning. It was Stanley's third homer in the last three games and con- tinued his game-breaking habits.

"I'll be happy if I can do as well in the second half of the season with key hits," said Stanley, who has produced 27 RBI despite a sub-par, .230 bat- ting average.

Chicago Bulls Now Without Home Court

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago Bulls were without a home court today, while the Boston Celtics, Atlantic Division champions of the National Basketball Association, had only their second sole owner in their 26-year history.

The Bulls have played the last five seasons in Chicago Stadium, after playing in the Chicago Amphitheatre in 1966-67, their first season in the league.

At present, they have no lease for next season for either arena.

They could play in the Amphitheatre, which holds about 10,500 for basketball, if the league's Board of Governors reconsiders a $5.0 million offer to purchase the club by a nine-man group from Milwaukee and Chicago, headed by Marvin L. Fishman, a Milwaukee realtor.

The Board rejected Tuesday the Fishman group offer to buy the Bulls from Elmer Rich.

NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy indicated that the Governors did not approve the offer because the Bulls were unable to obtain a lease for the Stadium.

Tuesday, Fishman said his group had signed a three-year lease with the Amphitheatre, but the Board still turned down the offer.

"I'm disappointed by the temporary setback our group received," said Fishman. "I would like to emphasize the word temporary. We intend to pursue every legal action to assume our acquisition of the team."

Should the efforts of the Fishman group fail, the Bulls could be sold to a group including Arthur Wirtz, owner of the 19,500-seat Stadium. It has been reported that with the rejection of Fishman, approval is expected to be given to the Wirtz group, which has a 10-year lease at favorable rental terms ready for the Bulls.

Meanwhile, the Board approved the sale of the Celtics for $5.1 million to Robert Schmetz, a 46-year-old realtor from Lakewood, N.J.

The 101st "championship" with prize money totaling about $120,000.

The main focus was on Nicklaus, who needs the British title to complete the third leg of the Grand Slam sweeping the four major pro tournaments. He already has won the Masters and U.S. Open. The British Open and the PGA at Birmingham, Mich., next month would complete the sweep.

On the eve of the British Open, Nicklaus mused: "The Grand Slam only becomes realistic if I win here. So I'm concentrating on that."

Nicklaus planned to sleep late because he was among the late starters.

Defending champion Lee Trevino had a much earlier starting time. The bookies listed Nicklaus as 9-4 favorite, with Trevino second choice at 6-1 and Gary Player of South Africa third at 12-1.

Wottle To Wed, Run At Munich

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Dave Wottle has made up his mind on two important matters, marriage and the Olympics.

First, the 21-year-old Bowling Green State University middle distance star will be married this weekend.

Secondly, Wottle has decided he will run both the 800 and 1,500-meter races.

White Sox Top Tribe, Win 4-3

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Three homers by the Chicago White Sox spelled doom to pitcher Dick Tidrow and the Cleveland Indians Tuesday night in a 4-3 defeat.

Ed Spiezio hit a solo homer to cap a three-run rally in the seventh and provide the winning run.

"Until the seventh inning, Dick was super, just super," catcher Ray Fosse said of Tidrow, now 5-9. "He had the best stuff all year."

Carlos May started the rally with a single and Rick Reichardt then hit his fourth homer to tie the game at 3-3.

Fosse said the pitch Reichardt hit "stayed right out there, straight as an arrow."

"Spiezio's homer was another nothing pitch. It was supposed to be a fast ball. We had been throwing the ball by him all night," Fosse concluded.

"Tidrow didn't lose anything," said Indians Manager Ken Aspromonte. "He just didn't get the ball where he wanted. He made a couple mistakes and they killed him. They hit the same stuff he was throwing past them early."

2 Veterans Fail To Show

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns lost one rookie Tuesday when Charles Jessamy, a running back from Kansas Wesleyan, didn't pass his physical.

The Browns are also working out without two veterans asked to report to camp with the rookies rather than report with the veterans Sunday.

The Browns believe flanker Stan Brown never received the letter inviting him to early camp, but are unsure of what happened to center-guard Chuck Reynolds.

Reynolds was supposed to have left his home in Tulsa, Okla., last Sunday but nothing has been heard from him.

"It's very discouraging," Coach Nick Skorich said of Reynolds. "Here is an athlete who is asked to return after being out of football a year. Then he doesn't show up. I hope there is some good reason."

In time tests Tuesday, Guy Homoly, trying for the second time to make the roster after injuring his knee in an exhibition game last summer, and rookie receiver Ron Lowe were both clocked in 4.6 seconds at 40 yards. Mel Long of Toledo, being tried at linebacker, ran the distance in 4.8 seconds.

Richard Nixon's Presence Felt At Democratic Confab

By JEFFREY HART
MIAMI BEACH — Though he is far removed from this hectic scene, Richard Nixon is a felt presence among the Democratic politicians, new and old, gathered here. They are caught up in their intramural conflicts, but the best of them know that the Democratic convention will come to an end somehow. And you sense that psychologically they have a kind of double focus. What President Nixon does between now and November can profoundly affect the meaning of the nomination now being decided. And smart Democrats know that he is going to do something.

Among Republican insiders in the summer of 1968, President Johnson was a comparable presence. When it was asked daily, was he going to drop the other shoe? True enough, he was a wounded lion but Mr. Nixon's entourage knew that wounded lions are dangerous.

And the contrast between LBJ's circumstance in 1968, and Nixon's in 1972, could not be more to Nixon's advantage. To get the talks going, LBJ had to stop the bombing. Nixon could stop the bombing if he wants to — it might be a nice gesture this week — but he doesn't have to. The North Vietnamese are showing up anyway.

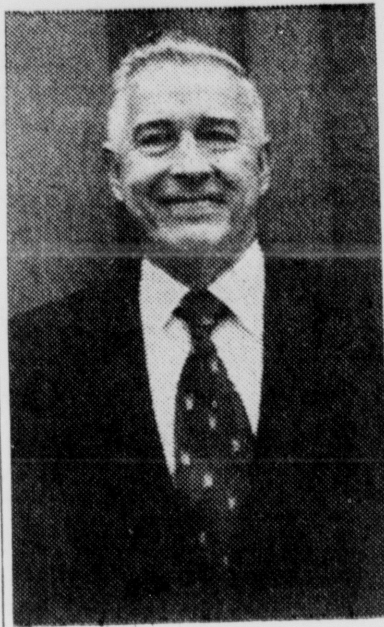

On the war issue generally,

Nixon seems in complete command. By means of his three-handed Peking - Washington - Moscow poker, he seemingly has isolated Hanoi politically. A few days before the Democrats saw down in Convention Hall, the Nixon Administration had announced a huge grain deal with the Soviets — plus another big deal with Peking for the sale of Boeing 707's to the mainland government.

The Nixon tactic, clearly, is to create concrete interests causing both Peking and Moscow to desire improved relations with Washington. In return, the U.S. Air Force has what amounts to a free hand over North Vietnam, and the mines, unchallenged, choke off supplies to Hanoi.

For all we or Hanoi know, Nixon may have a free hand to destroy the North, more or less, if it refuses to come to terms.

As Nixon plays out this hand, the anti-war orators in Miami Beach have a devilishly difficult game to play. They have the rhetoric of indignation, for whatever that is worth, but Nixon has the initiative in the international arena, will have it from now until November. And the men around Sen. George McGovern are as aware of that fact as they are of the magic number, 1509.

C. W. HICKEY

C. W. Hickey Transferred To Du Pont Plant

The transfer of C. W. Hickey from Du Pont's Tecumseh Film Plant at Topeka, Kan., to the Circleville Plant has been announced.

Hickey has been appointed employee relations superintendent of the local plant, replacing Art Cross, who was recently transferred.

Hickey started with the company April 2, 1951, as student engineer at the company's Spruance Plant, Richmond, Va.

He was subsequently promoted to engineer, liaison engineer, maintenance foreman, assistant area supervisor in maintenance, area supervisor maintenance and area supervisor manufacturing.

In June, 1953, he was transferred to the Tecumseh plant as employee relations superintendent. Active in civic affairs, he was on the executive board of Blue Cross and Blue Shield for the state of Kansas, was first vice president of the Topeka Council of Churches, chapter chairman of Shawnee County Red Cross.

A graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, he was a veteran of the United States Navy.

Married, he and his wife Maxine are the parents of a son, Charles W. Hickey Jr., and two daughters, Carolyn Alice and Jennifer Maxine.

Protesters Hardly Aware Of McGovern Win

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Yuppies, Zippies and Gays didn't join hands and dance in the streets when George McGovern clinched the Democratic presidential nomination.

In fact, many of the 1,500 counterculture demonstrators camped out at Flamingo Park scarcely seemed to notice what was going on at Convention Hall, what with all the pot, skinny dipping and good vibes to be had.

"What difference does it make?" asked David Cohen, a member of the Students for a Democratic Society from Chicago. "He isn't going to end racism. He isn't going to buy capitalism."

But if there was little celebrating that McGovern had won out in the pre-convention maneuvering, it was easy to find a kind word for the South Dakota senator.

"Anything would make me happy if it means Nixon will no longer rule the country," said Kenneth Grogan, 26, of Tampa, Fla. "McGovern is about the best there is, but I don't think everyone is satisfied with him."

The prospect of McGovern as president has cheered some of the young people.

"I'm happy about it," said Bill Kohler, a beer-sipping former Army private who now belongs to Vietnam Veterans Against the War. "I'd like someone to stop the war right now, and he can't do that. But he's still our best hope."

Several nondelegates at Flamingo Park worried that McGovern might change some of his positions.

"I hope he doesn't back down on a lot of implied promises," said Ti Culver, a 23-year-old Minnesota volunteer for the People's Party. "He's already backed off on abortion, amnesty and drug laws."

An even stronger criticism came from the Zippies, a vocal group of dissidents who broke with the Youth International Party—Yippies.

"After some of the compromises he's made with conservative Democrats, I'm beginning to wonder," said Zippie Eddie Harper of Orlando, Fla. "He may turn out just like Tricky Dick if he keeps on like he's going."

But the skeptics were far outnumbered Tuesday night by the apathetic — demonstrators who grooved with their own thing under the huge banyan tree in Flamingo Park.

young protesters watched on a color television set perched on a table in the park. At the same time, nearly 200 jockeyed for a good seat at the swimming pool where skinny dippers frolicked.

When McGovern himself showed up to address a senior citizen's rally at the Flamingo Park stadium Sunday, only a scattering of youths were intermingled with the oldsters.

Susan Wolf, a pretty blonde in a long dress, was asked how she liked the senator's speech as she walked back to the park. "Actually, I didn't hear what he said," she answered with a thin smile. "I was too stoned."

Democrats Not Throwing Many Parties

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "We're eating hot dogs this year not filet mignon" says Liz Carpenter summing up the doldrums of the social circuit at the Democratic National Convention.

"It's a different spread" added Mrs. Carpenter a White House aide in the Johnson administration and always a favored guest on the Washington social circuit.

It appears that the hoopla and parties which sparked past Democratic conventions are passe this year.

Some Democrats speculate this is caused by the style of the convention — the new breed of delegates whose tastes run more to dungarees and peanut butter than to cocktails and caviar. Others figure the question is purely financial — another manifestation of the party's $9.3-million debt.

"I looked for invitations and you know there weren't any"

said Mary Hoyt press secretary for Mrs. George McGovern. "And if there were what would people think? That we're down here to party?"

Mrs. Terry Sanford wife of the former North Carolina governor seeking the Democratic presidential nomination said her social calendar isn't as full as she'd expected.

"I thought maybe I wasn't being invited to the parties but it seems there aren't many" she said. "Other years we've received lots of invitations to receptions and teas and things but this year there doesn't seem to be much going on."

The fat-cats are here all right. Sometimes they can be seen cabana-hopping along the stretch of hotel beaches but few are throwing extravagant black-tie parties.

In a convention week usually studded with fashion shows and teas and staid "ladies functions" there was only one fashion show. Tickets went for a record low $3. And some went begging.

"These things used to be command performances," said Mrs. Gilbert Hahn of Washington who did attend. "But now they're absolutely passe. It's delicious that this aspect is over. Four years ago this kind of thing would have been packed every day. Now who cares?"

Hotel beauty parlors say business isn't as usual that the increase in women delegates hasn't helped their business one bit. Sacks, halters and sandals are in as acceptable on the convention platform as they are on the beach. Waxen coiffed hair-dos are out.

"I don't know what you call it but I call it grim" said a Washington social writer who came to the convention to describe the party scene. "If it keeps up like this I could go out of business."

Postal Service Named In Suit

CINCINNATI (AP)—As predicted last week by Mayor Thomas Luken the City of Cincinnati Tuesday went to court to stop the U.S. Postal Service from building a bulk mail station in suburban Sharonville, instead of at a downtown site.

The action filed in U.S. District Court named Postmaster General Elmer T. Klassen and the postal service as defendants and charged the department was violating federal law and presidential directives by choosing Sharonville.

The city wants the center in the Liberty-Dalton urban renewal area near the site of the present U.S. Postal Service Annex where 588 are employed sorting bulk mail.

SD Sets Large Field For Challenge Stakes

Two dozen promising 2-year-old pacers will go postward Thursday night at Scioto Downs in the $20,000 Challenge Stakes. The race was split into two divisions, each going for $10,000 and a beautiful silver Challenge Stakes trophy.

Both divisions abound with young pacing talent, and the second division has been slated for action in the ninth race.

Almost co-favorites on the early line in the second division are the world champion 2-year-old pacing gelding To Ri Boy, the son of Adios Harry who streaked around Laurel Raceway in 2:01 1/5, and Harry Fitz, the bay son of Sampson Direct owned by K. D. Owen of Houston, Texas with a victory in 2:02 2/5 this year at Sportsman's Park in the American National.

In the first division, the Gene Riegler stable entry of Our Bret, Romero Hanover, and Swashbuckler, is the slight choice over Howard Beissinger's Bret's Tune, Joe O'Brien's Steady Special, and Harold Coburn's Four.

Our Bret, owned by the Big O Stable of Columbus, shows three wins, one second, and two thirds in six starts this year with a record of 2:04. Romero Hanover has a victory in 2:07 2/5.

Howard Beissinger, a fair hand with a trotter, has a fine pair of entries in Bret's Tune in the first division, and Sea Treasurer in the second. Bret's Tune, a son of Bret Hanover, is owned by Tommy Ryan, the former vocalist with the Sammy Kaye orchestra. Sea Treasurer owned by the Kildonnell Farms of Belleville, Ohio has two wins this year with a record of 2:07.

Riegler has a powerhouse as part of his two-horse entry in the second division in C. B. Toro, the full brother to Scioto's track record holder, Jay Time, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baas of Columbus. C. B. Toro has a victory in 2:05 this season.

Bruce Nickels has a fine prospect in Tricky in the second division. This bay son of Painter, won last week in 2:04 by pacing the last half in 1:00 1/5.

Yablonski Defendants Claim Illegal Plot To File Charges

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Defense lawyers for two United Mine Workers Union officials have charged that state and federal officials plotted illegally to file murder charges against the defendants in the Yablonski slayings.

Judge Charles G. Sweet of Washington County Court, Tuesday termed the allegation a novel issue, but refused to rule immediately on the request to throw out the charges. "I want to read up on this first," Sweet said.

The defense attorneys charged federal conspiracy in fraudulently to bring Albert E. Pass, 51, Middlesboro, Ky., and William J. Prater, 53, of LaFollette, Tenn., into Pennsylvania for the sole purpose of charging them with murder.

The two are accused of funneling UMW funds to hired killers for the murders of union rebel Joseph A. Yablonski and his wife and daughter, Yablonski was murdered after an unsuccessful election bid for the union presidency.

Prater, in brief testimony Tuesday, said he does not know Annette Gilly, the woman who, in a statement to authorities, claimed he helped plan for the slayings. Mrs. Gilly has pleaded guilty to murder in the slayings.

Prater did, however, admit acquaintance with her father, Silous Huddleston, who also has pleaded guilty to murder charges and implicated Prater and Pass in his statement. Under questioning by his attorney, H. David Rothman of Pittsburgh, Prater described how he was stopped by FBI agents while walking down a street in Lake City, Tenn., with his family. He said he was taken to the FBI office, but was not told what charges were being brought against him.

Both Rothman and Harold G. Gendelman of Pittsburgh, Pass's attorney, also challenged the method of selecting the Washington County grand jury.

The grand jury is expected to be asked Monday by Dist. Atty. Jess D. Costa to indict Pass and Prater on first-degree murder charges.

Names of prospective jurors are submitted by a judge and the chairman of both major political parties. This, the attorneys argued, does not provide for random selection of jurors. Sweet is expected to rule on all issues brought before him before the grand jury convenes Monday.

Murder Suspect To Be Returned For Ohio Trial

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — "That's the best golf I've ever seen played," Lalu Sabotin said.

The five-time state public links champion marveled at the round of three-under-par 69 Steve Groves fashioned Tuesday for the opening Ohio Amateur lead.

"He did it all, drove the ball big, hit the greens and putted like crazy," said Sabotin, the 1967 Ohio Amateur Champion from Warren, who followed Grove the last five holes at Belmont country Club.

Lowly Peninsula, whipping boy of the International League, shut out Richmond twice Tuesday night in the highlight of league action, while 1 e a g u e - l e a d i n g Charlestown bounded back from defeat with a 16-1 rout of Toledo in their second game.

Peninsula has blanked the opposition for 23 straight innings, starting Sunday with a 3-0 shut-out of Tidewater. The Whips added a pair of one-hitters Tuesday night for 7-0 and 2-0 triumphs.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fred Ridley of Winterhaven, Fla., got off to a bad start in the Western Junior Golf Championship Tuesday with a bogey on the first hole but then dropped three birdies for a two under-par 70.

That gave him the best score on Ohio State University's tough, 6,735-yard Scarlet course going into today's second qualifying round.

Richard Nixon's Presence Felt At Democratic Confab

By JEFFREY HART
MIAMI BEACH — Though he is far removed from this hectic scene, Richard Nixon is a felt presence among the Democratic politicians, new and old, gathered here. They are caught up in their intramural conflicts, but the best of them know that the Democratic convention will come to an end somehow. And you sense that psychologically they have a kind of double focus. What President Nixon does between now and November can profoundly affect the meaning of the nomination now being decided. And smart Democrats know that he is going to do something.

Among Republican insiders in the summer of 1968, President Johnson was a comparable presence. When it was asked daily, was he going to drop the other shoe? True enough, he was a wounded lion but Mr. Nixon's entourage knew that wounded lions are dangerous.

And the contrast between LBJ's circumstance in 1968, and Nixon's in 1972, could not be more to Nixon's advantage. To get the talks going, LBJ had to stop the bombing, if he wants to — it might be a nice gesture this week — but he doesn't have to. The North Vietnamese are showing up anyway. On the war issue generally,

Nixon seems in complete command. By means of his three-handed Peking - Washington - Moscow poker, he seemingly has isolated Hanoi politically. A few days before the Democrats saw down in Convention Hall, the Nixon Administration had announced a huge grain deal with the Soviets — plus another big deal with Peking for the sale of Boeing 707's to the mainland government.

The Nixon tactic, clearly, is to create concrete interests causing both Peking and Moscow to desire improved relations with Washington. In return, the U.S. Air Force has what amounts to a free hand over North Vietnam, and the mines, unchallenged, choke off supplies to Hanoi.

For all we or Hanoi know, Nixon may have a free hand to destroy the North, more or less, if it refuses to come to terms.

As Nixon plays out this hand, the anti-war orators in Miami Beach have a devilishly difficult game to play. They have the rhetoric of indignation, for whatever that is worth, but Nixon has the initiative in the international arena, will have it from now until November. And the men around Sen. George McGovern are as aware of that fact as they are of the magic number, 1509.

Con Men Pose As Social Security Representatives

Con men posing as social security representatives have been reported in this area according to Harry B. Bieber, district manager of the Chillicothe Social Security Office.

These people generally visit older persons in their own homes according to Bieber.

They are generally neat, well-dressed, well-mannered men although they may also have a woman along. They usually operate in groups of two or three.

Usually they advise the victim that a physical examination is necessary which will be used to increase the amount of the social security check. If the person agrees to the examination, one of the con men who claims to be a "social security doctor" performs the examination while the others go through his clothes and the house stealing anything of value.

Bieber listed the following precautions a person should observe if he or she is approached by persons posing as social security representatives.

First, ask to see identification.

Second, don't let a person in your home unless you're positive of his or her identity.

Third, if you feel suspicious about your visitors, call the social security office and your local law enforcement agencies. This is the only way we will be able to stop these swindlers from operating.

Also, it will be helpful to give the law enforcement agencies a description of these persons, their car, and license, number, if possible.

If you call the social security office to report anything of this nature, we will need to have your name, address, and directions to your home. The law enforcement agencies will also need this information.

The Chillicothe office is located at 606 Central Center. The phone number is 775-4950. The office is open from 8:45 to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday, holidays excepted.

Suburban police agencies reported a 4 per cent increase in serious crime which was slightly lower than the 5 per cent last year and substantially lower than the 18 per cent rise in 1970.

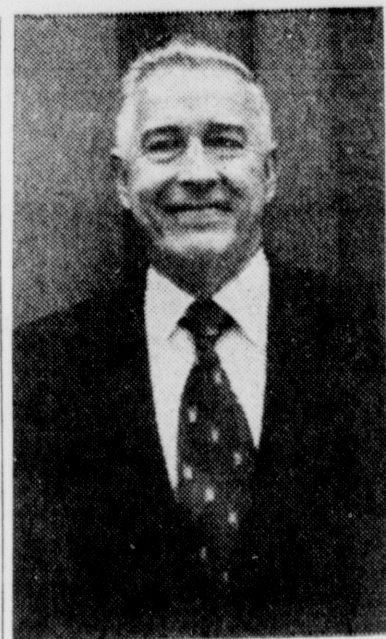

Crime in rural areas increased 8 per cent in the first quarter, compared to a 6 per cent increase in 1971 and a 19 per cent increase in 1970.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cincinnati showed an increase of about 16 per cent in the seven-category uniform crime index for the first three months of 1972 over the corresponding period last year, FBI figures revealed today.

Cleveland had a decrease of less than 1 per cent in the index, while Columbus registered a 3.3 per cent drop, the FBI said.

Offenses dropped an average of 5 per cent in the 22 reporting cities in the 500,000 to 1 million population category, the FBI said. The rate of decline was 6 per cent in cities with more than 1 million persons.

The seven-crime categories are murder-manslaughter, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny of over $50 and auto theft.

Protesters Hardly Aware Of McGovern Win

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Yuppies, Zippies and Gays didn't join hands and dance in the streets when George McGovern clinched the Democratic presidential nomination.

In fact, many of the 1,500 counterculture demonstrators camped out at Flamingo Park scarcely seemed to notice what was going on at Convention Hall, what with all the pot, skinny dipping and good vibes to be had.

"What difference does it make?" asked David Cohen, a member of the Students for a Democratic Society from Chicago. "He isn't going to end racism. He isn't going to buy capitalism."

But if there was little celebrating that McGovern had won out in the pre-convention maneuvering, it was easy to find a kind word for the South Dakota senator.

"Anything would make me happy if it means Nixon will no longer rule the country," said Kenneth Grogan, 26, of Tampa, Fla. "McGovern is about the best there is, but I don't think everyone is satisfied with him."

The prospect of McGovern as president has cheered some of the young people.

"I'm happy about it," said Bill Kohler, a beer-sipping former Army private who now belongs to Vietnam Veterans Against the War. "I'd like someone to stop the war right now, and he can't do that. But he's still our best hope."

Several nondelegates at Flamingo Park worried that McGovern might change some of his positions.

"I hope he doesn't back down on a lot of implied promises," said Ti Culver, a 23-year-old Minnesota volunteer for the People's Party. "He's already backed off on abortion, amnesty and drug laws."

An even stronger criticism came from the Zippies, a vocal group of dissidents who broke with the Youth International Party—Yippies.

"After some of the compromises he's made with conservative Democrats, I'm beginning to wonder," said Zippie Eddie Harper of Orlando, Fla. "He may turn out just like Tricky Dick if he keeps on like he's going."

But the skeptics were far outnumbered Tuesday night by the apathetic — demonstrators who grooved with their own thing under the huge banyan tree in Flamingo Park.

When Democrats wrangled over the crucial California delegation challenge early Tuesday morning, less than a hundred young protesters watched on a color television set perched on a table in the park. At the same time, nearly 200 jockeyed for a good seat at the swimming pool where skinny dippers frolicked.

When McGovern himself showed up to address a senior citizen's rally at the Flamingo Park stadium Sunday, only a scattering of youths were intermingled with the oldsters.

Susan Wolf, a pretty blonde in a long dress, was asked how she liked the senator's speech as she walked back to the park.

"Actually, I didn't hear what he said," she answered with a thin smile. "I was too stoned."

Democrats Not Throwing Many Parties

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "We're eating hot dogs this year not filet mignon" says Liz Carpenter summing up the doldrums of the social circuit at the Democratic National Convention.

"It's a different spread" added Mrs. Carpenter a White House aide in the Johnson administration and always a favored guest on the Washington social circuit.

It appears that the hoopla and parties which sparked past Democratic conventions are passe this year.

Some Democrats speculate this is caused by the style of the convention — the new breed of delegates whose tastes run more to dungarees and peanut butter than to cocktails and caviar. Others figure the question is purely financial — another manifestation of the party's $9.3-million debt.

"I looked for invitations and you know there weren't any"

said Mary Hoyt press secretary for Mrs. George McGovern. "And if there were what would people think? That

Brutal Slayings In Euclid Leave Police Few Clues

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Police say they have few clues to the Tuesday morning slayings of a Euclid woman and her son and stabbing of the woman's husband. One of them is a 19-inch butcher knife.

Mrs. Rose E. Frazee, 61, was found dead in the living room of her home with her throat slit. Her husband, Elmer S. Frazee, 62, was found unconscious next to a telephone, and their son, Donald, was found dead eight hours later in high weeds on Cleveland's East Side.

The elder Frazee, stabbed nine times all over his body, is in serious condition in Euclid General Hospital. A neighbor telephoned Frazee about 2 a.m. Tuesday about commotion in the house and said he was told, "We're being butchered."

However, the neighbor held off calling police after the conversation and after seeing a scuffle between Mrs. Frazee and a man because, he said, his mother advised him not to get involved.

Police, who refused to identify the neighbor, said the man finally called police about 10 minutes later.

Police said the son might have been in a parked car in the Frazee driveway when his parents were stabbed. The coroner's office said he was killed about an hour after his parents.

Neighbors of the family displayed fear after the attack and one neighbor said, "I know of five people on this street who went out this morning and bought guns."

Neighbors said the Frazees were cautious, left their doors locked and never let anyone in the house. Their son was found bludgeoned to death with a broken piece of concrete behind the Morris Apartments at 7600 Euclid Avenue.

Cleveland police, who have entered the case since the son's body was found in the city, said they are not sure if there is a connection between the killings and the stabbing deaths Monday of two retirees in their home on East 70th Street.

Police believe robbery was the motive in the Monday deaths of Harry Goldstein, 80, and William Barker, 59.

Euclid police said the only item taken from the family's house was a portable television set Mrs. Frazee had been watching in a second-floor bedroom.

Police said only two drawers were opened in her room and the contents were only slightly disturbed. Watches on the dresser were not taken.

we're down here to party?" Mrs. Terry Sanford wife of the former North Carolina governor seeking the Democratic presidential nomination said her social calendar isn't as full as she'd expected.

"I thought maybe I wasn't being invited to the parties but it seems there aren't many," she said. "Other years we've received lots of invitations to receptions and teas and things but this year there doesn't seem to be much going on."

The fat-cats are here all right. Sometimes they can be seen cabana-hopping along the stretch of hotel beaches but few are throwing extravagant black-tie parties.

In a convention week usually studded with fashion shows and staid "ladies functions" there was only one fashion show. Tickets went for a record low $3. And some went begging.

"These things used to be command performances," said Mrs. Gilbert Hahn of Washington who did attend. "But now they're absolutely passe. It's delicious that this aspect is over. Four years ago this kind of thing would have been packed every day. Now who cares?"

Hotel beauty parlors say business isn't as usual that the increase in women delegates hasn't helped their business one bit. Sacks, halters and sandals are in as acceptable on the convention platform as they are on the beach. Waxen coiffed hair-dos are out.

"I don't know what you call it but I call it grim" said a Washington social writer who came to the convention to describe the party scene. "If it keeps up like this I could go out of business."

Postal Service Named In Suit

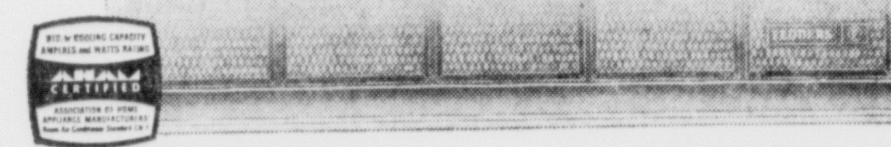

CINCINNATI (AP)—As predicted last week by Mayor Thomas Luken the City of Cincinnati Tuesday went to court to stop the U.S. Postal Service from building a bulk mail station in suburban Sharonville, instead of at a downtown site.

The action filed in U.S. District Court named Postmaster General Elmer T. Klassen and the postal service as defendants and charged the department was violating federal law and presidential directives by choosing Sharonville.

The city wants the center in the Liberty-Dalton urban renewal area near the site of the present U.S. Postal Service Annex where 588 are employed sorting bulk mail.

POINTS ON PEACHES

Peaches are an excellent buy right now, for prepared desserts or eating out of hand. Select fresh, firm peaches, free from blemishes. Mature fruit has a whitish or creamy yellow undercolor. Red color is not a sign of ripeness, and blush depends upon variety. One pound of peaches will provide 2 cups sliced fruit or 1 cup of pulp. When storing fresh peaches, keep them in the refrigerator, unwashed. Refrigerated peaches have a shelf life of 3 to 14 days, depending on maturity and variety of fruit. Peaches are a good source of vitamin A (a medium size peach provides about 1/3 the Recommended Daily Allowance of vitamin A), and fresh peaches have a small amount of vitamin C. A medium fresh peach provides about 38 calories — a good dessert for those counting calories.

PEACH CRUMB PUDDING

4 Lbs. Fresh Peaches 1 1/4 Cups Sifted All Purpose Flour
 1 Cup Sugar 2 Cups Food Club Margarine

Reserve 1 peach for garnishing. Peel peaches, cut into quarters and drop into mixture of 1/2 cup sugar and 3 tablespoons flour. Turn into baking dish (10 x 6 x 2 inches). Mix remaining sugar and flour; cut in butter to crumb consistency. Sprinkle crumbs over peaches. Bake in preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F) for 1 hour. Garnish top as desired with sliced fresh peach. Serves 8-10.
